While You Were Distracted By Will Smith, The International Elitists Met At The World Government Summit

by: Derrick Broze

Guests included Klaus Schwab of the World Economic Forum and Kristalina Georgieva of the International Monetary Fund.

While much of the "mainstream" world has spent the last few days obsessing over and debating the celebrity spectacle surrounding American actor Will Smith slapping American comedian Chris Rock, the international elitists were meeting in Dubai for the 2022 World Government Summit.

From March 28th to the 30th, corporate media journalists, heads of state, and CEOs of some of the most profitable companies in the world met for discussions on shaping the direction of the next decade and beyond. Anyone with a functioning brain should ignore the tabloids and instead pay attention to this little known gathering of globalist Technocrats.

Let's take a look at the speakers and the panels, starting with Mr. Great Reset himself, Klaus Schwab, founder of the World Economic Forum.

Schwab gave a talk entitled, Our World Today... Why Government Must Act Now?. "Thank you, to his excellency for enabling this initiative to define a longer-term narrative to make the world more resilient, more inclusive and more sustainable."

Schwab stated during his address. The use of the term narrative is important because in January 2021, Klaus and the World Economic Forum announced the next phase of The Great Reset, The Great Narrative.

As with The Great Narrative event, the World Government Summit was also held in Dubai. As I wrote during the Great Narrative meeting: "While the political leaders of the UAE and Klaus Schwab may promote themselves as the heroes of our times, we should judge them according to their actions and the company they keep, not the flowery language they use to distract us. The simple fact is the UAE has a horrible record on human rights. The nation is known for deporting those who renounce Islam, limited press freedoms, and enforcing elements of Sharia law."

During Schwab's short talk he also mentioned his pet project "the 4th Industrial Revolution", which is essentially the digital panopticon of the future, where digital surveillance is omnipresent and humanity uses digital technology to alter our lives. Often associated with terms like the Internet of Things, the Internet of Bodies, the Internet of Humans, and the Internet of Senses, this world will be powered by 5G and 6G technology. Of course, for Schwab and other globalists, the 4IR also lends itself towards more central planning and top-down control. The goal is a track and trace society where all transactions are logged, every person has a digital ID that can be tracked, and social malcontents are locked out of society via social credit scores.

Immediately following Schwab was a panel which made no attempt to hide the goals of the globalists. The panel, Are We Ready for A New World Order?, featured Fred Kempe, president and CEO of the Atlantic Council since 2007, as well as an anchor for CNN and a former

About us

In early May of 2021, several Patriots were discussing how censorious the mainstream media (MSM) had gotten. One thing led to another, they challenged me, Leesa Bolden to get a local, thought provoking paper off the ground...from scratch... so with a dedicated team of volunteers we got it done! Thank you all.

Unfortunately, due to unforeseen life circumstances and time constraints all of the original team left the paper solely to me to undertake. I am grateful to Cheryl Reid for stepping up from the already overwhelming amount of work she is doing as accounts manager and distribution to help even more. We are very excited to have a news outlet that is an all woman owned and operated company.

Our desire for this paper is to provide counter arguments and stories not covered by the MSM. We give voice to dissenting opinions that you may or may not agree with, that will be for you to decide. Obviously, none of us will ever agree completely with anyone. However, when we set aside our petty differences, AMAZING things can result! THAT is why we do this!

The organizers have determined to leave the Washington DC area and take the convoy back to the states and do what truckers do best. Roll.

The People's Convoy is leaving Hagerstown, Maryland, and is going cross-country back to California. The California state legislature is going to vote on the most invasive COVID-19 legislation yet. If the legislation passes, laws will be made that will make all state residents, including children, legally bound under criminal penalty of law to give up their basic medical freedoms in order to participate in society.

The ten bills that the Convoy objects to are as follows:

SB-871: Adds COVID-19 injection to list of immunizations for public/private school, regardless of FDA approval, no Personal Belief Exemptions, very rare Medical Exemptions (see 2098)

AB-2098: Classifies anti-covid medical opinion as “unprofessional conduct” subject to discipline by medical boards.

SB-866: Lowers the age of vax consent to 12 without parental consent or knowledge.

SB920: Authorizes the medical board to inspect a doctor’s office and medical records without a patient’s consent.

SB-1464: Requires Law Enforcement to enforce public health guidelines or lose their funding.

SB-1479: Requires schools to create long term testing plans and report test results to CA Dept. of Public Health.

SB-1390: Prohibits any person/entity from making statements government deems untrue or misleading by any means including on internet/ads.

SB-1184: Authorizes school health personnel to disclose child's medical info without parents consent to a third party.

AB-1797: Creates an immunization tracking system giving all government agencies access to tax records of all persons.

AB-1993: Requires proof of COVID-19 vax for all employees & independent contractors to work in CA.

The Peoples Convoy unreservedly condemns these violations of basic rights that are being considered for law by the legislature of California. Marcus Sommers, co-lead organizer, says, “We’re leaving the DC area but we are not abandoning this mission. Everything that we see in these ten bills in California is in the bullseye of what we oppose.

To not raise the alarm and bring pressure against these measures would be a dereliction of duty. The People's Convoy is in this for the long haul."

Why Is Gas So Expensive?

by Congressman Dr. Paul Gosar, Arizona 4th District

It's not Putin. It's not Trump. It's not "greedy" oil companies. If you have heard those excuses you were listening to Jen Psaki or CNN, both known liars and spreaders of disinformation.

Here is the truth: In February 2020, Joe Biden said this during a Democrat presidential debate with Bernie Sanders: "No more subsidies for fossil fuel energy, no more drilling on federal lands, no more drilling, including offshore.

No ability for the oil industry to continue to drill. Period."

True to his debate statement, on January 21, 2021, former Vice-President Biden issued an executive order banning fracking, oil drilling in Alaska and the Gulf of Mexico, and stopping two oil pipelines among other lunatic actions. He caused the supply shortage and we went from a net oil exporter to the world under President Donald Trump to Mr. Biden begging OPEC to produce more oil. And OPEC told Biden to pound sand... desert sand that is. Compounding that humiliation, Saudi Arabia refused to return Biden's calls and messages and pleas. In one year, Joe Biden and the Democrats have turned our country into a global laughingstock.

NETTLES!

by: Herbmama

Yes, the same stinging nettles that aggravate your skin if you get the stingers on you. Nettles have been used for centuries to help treat allergies, particularly the most common, hay fever. According to Dr. Andrew Wiel, M.D., he knows of nothing more effective than nettles for allergy relief. All the over the counter stuff, the scripts, even medications such as Allegra & Claritin treat only the symptoms of allergies and tend to lose effectiveness over time. With side effects such as drowsiness, dried up sinuses, insomnia & high blood pressure, they should not be taken all the time anyway. Nettles have none of those side effects and can be used on a regular basis. But the benefits of nettles doesn't stop here.

The properties of nettles are: it's an analgesic, anti-inflammatory, anti-allergenic, anti-rheumatic, anti-asthmatic, anti-convulsant, anti-histamine, astringent, decongestant, diuretic and more! What's wonderful too about it is it's a great all-over tonic for the body!! It's great for the adrenals & so many have adrenal issues now & don't even realize it.

Nettles can be used for: seasonal allergies, arthritis, bronchitis, bursitis, gingivitis, sinusitis, tendonitis, high blood pressure, inflammatory conditions, hair loss, eczema, gout, sciatica, neuralgia, Alzheimer's, asthma, bladder infections, hives, kidney stones, MS, PMS, sciatica....to name a few!!!

Warning: Nettles may lower blood pressure & heart rate, so be cautious. Do not take if breast-feeding or if pregnant.

Most stinging nettle products are made from the stem and leaves, but the roots also have pharmacological qualities. The herb has anti-inflammatory qualities that can affect treatment of many health issues. The aboveground parts have typically aided in allergy relief and other breathing-related problems. The roots are able to provide relief for urinary disorders and enlarged prostate as well.

More research is needed, but stinging nettle is also said to:

- * Stimulate hair growth
- * Help control blood sugar in patients with diabetes
- * Reduce bleeding connected to gingivitis
- * Treat disorders of the kidneys and urinary tract

- * Provide relief from water retention
- * Decrease menstrual flow
- * Provide asthma relief
- * Heal wounds
- * Treat hemorrhoids
- * Stimulate contractions in pregnant women
- * Treat insect bites
- * Treat tendonitis
- * Treat anemia

Osteoarthritis and Joint Pain:

Arthritis sufferers often experience joint pain, typically in the hands, knees, hips and spine. Nettle works alongside anti-inflammatory drugs (NSAIDs) to allow patients to decrease their NSAID use. Because prolonged use of NSAIDs can cause a number of serious side effects, this is an ideal pairing.

Studies also show that applying nettle leaf topically at the site of pain decreases joint pain and can help treat arthritis. Nettle can also provide relief when taken orally. Another study published in the Journal of Rheumatology shows stinging nettle's anti-inflammatory power against other autoimmune diseases like rheumatoid arthritis.

Hay Fever:

Histamine production in the body creates the adverse reactions related to allergies. Allergies cause uncomfortable congestion, sneezing, itching and more. Stinging nettle's anti-inflammatory qualities affect a number of key receptors and enzymes in allergic reactions, preventing hay fever symptoms if taken when they first appear. The leaves of the plant contain histamine, which may seem counterproductive in allergy treatment, but there is history of using histamines to treat severe allergic reactions.

11 Reasons Why Electric Cars Will Never be The Thing

by Dr. Jay Lehr and Tom Harris

When Elon Musk, who makes his fortune from Tesla electric car sales, boosts an increase in American oil and gas production to make up for the loss of Russian imports, you just know

President Joe Biden is on the wrong track.

On March 4th, the billionaire CEO of Tesla tweeted:

“Hate to say it, but we need to increase oil & gas output immediately. Extraordinary times demand extraordinary measures.”

Musk added eight minutes later:

“Obviously, this would negatively affect Tesla, but sustainable energy solutions simply cannot react instantaneously to make up for Russian oil & gas exports.”

He’s right, of course. Yet the fantasy of the Globalists, Green New Deal, AOC, Bernie Sanders, Obama, Biden, crowd the electric car goes on unabated even as many of them sank with cargo ship Felicity Ace off the coast of Portugal’s Azores Islands on March 1 after a fire raged for two weeks, likely as a result of their hazardous lithium-ion batteries.

Even without any effort on the part of those of us who recognize their liabilities, electric cars will never occupy more than 10% of cars on the American road. By continuing to write the truth about them, we hope to slow the current government and their green promoters from further eliminating our economic and safe dependence on fossil fuels. And, surprisingly, Musk, the EV pioneer, is now on the side of common sense concerning our transportation energy sources.

Here are 11 reasons electric cars will never be the ‘thing’... and yes, I’m sure you can add to this list in the comments:

- 1 – $10,000 excess cost over comparable internal combustion engine-driven cars
- 2 – Insufficient places to recharge human rights abuses abound across the world due to the way in which EV batteries are made

Larry Bell, Professor of Space Architecture at the University of Houston where he and his students designed the International Space Station, stated that the latest de facto EV mandate from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) proposes to require the current 3% of those magical “energy” plug-in vehicles to make up 17% of the market by 2026. This would be accomplished by increasing the required average fleet miles per gallon to 55 up from 43 mpg agreed by the Trump administration (which itself was uncalled for).

Most auto manufacturers lose between $10,000 and $12,000 on every electric car they make but make it up by raising the prices of their more popular internal combustion cars. According to the Kelly Bluebook, an average EV car costs just over $51,000, which is $11,000 more than the average 4-door sedan conventional car and $30,000 more than a compact. EV drivers not only pay through the nose when they buy the vehicle, but they also manage half the miles traveled per year because of the limited range and time recharging them.

EPA’s fuel efficiency

regulatory over-reach is premised on the fallacious notion that their net-zero greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions goal will somehow end billions of years of climate change on this planet. And we will power ourselves primarily with Chinese solar and wind materials while China, exempt from any UN limits on GHG emissions, builds a new coal-fired power plant each week. We will also need $300 billion of power lines to carry the electricity from the wind and solar stations Biden wants us to install across the nation. And, of course, most folks will want to recharge their EVs at night when neither the Sun is shining nor the wind blowing. They had better hope that America maintains plenty of coal or natural gas-fired electricity generation to make up the difference.

Nevertheless, like the rest of the naïve Biden administration, EPA Administrator Michael Regan is confident of the EV changeover as he said recently that most car manufacturers have “made public commitments to build these cars in the future.”

@BrianRoemmele

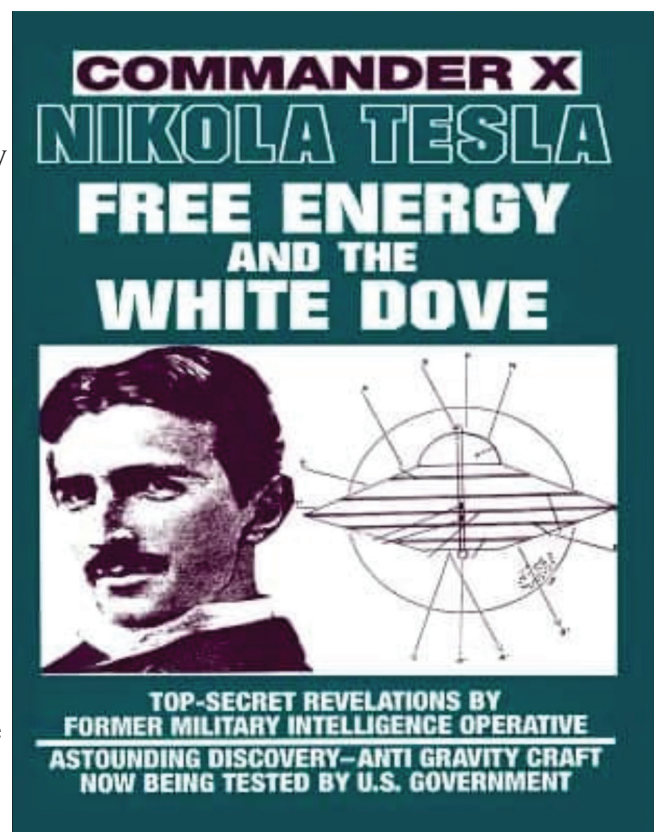

To manufacture each EV battery, you must process

25,000 pounds of brine for the lithium 30,000 pounds of ore for the cobalt
5,000 pounds of ore for the nickel, 25,000 pounds of ore for copper Digging up 500,000 pounds of the earth's crust

For just - one - battery.

- 3 – Excess time to recharge versus filling a gas tank—at least six times longer requiring six times as many filling stations as we have today
- 4 – Availability of excess energy in the nation—we simply do not have the electricity available to support a mass transition to EVs
- 5 – Low mileage, for most owners it is just a second car
- 6 – Cold-weather range reduction—EV batteries don’t work well at low temperatures
- 7 – Used car value—due to the high cost of replacing the battery
- 8 – Limited density per neighborhood—or the neighborhood grid will overload

11 Reasons Electric Cars

Not surprisingly, a joint statement issued by BMW, Ford, Honda, Volkswagen, and Volvo said that reaching an electric car future will depend on tremendous support from the government.

Similarly, the auto and supplier trade group Alliance for Automotive Innovation argued that it will be difficult to achieve higher fuel standards without federal support to help the industry transition to electric vehicles.

In the meantime, Musk's Tesla is really enjoying all the politics of the debate as they pocketed $1.58 billion in 2020 selling to other manufacturers surplus regulatory credits, more than its net $852 million vehicle sales income.

So, if you don't mind the high price, don't need to drive very far or often, have a reliable, weather-independent recharging source, never need to drive in cold weather, and don't care about the environment or human rights, then sure, as the British would say, fill your boots and buy an electric car. It is, after all, still a free country.

But using billions of American tax dollars to fund Biden's EV pipe dream is criminal.

Soros Backed Organizations Going After Hillary Clinton

www.truthandaction.org

George Soros no longer wants his minions to support Hillary Diane Clinton. It's not that he no longer espouses all the corruption and greed she embodies, but that she is about to be fed to the wolves. Her time is up.

According to the Washington DC-based nonpartisan election law nonprofit, the Campaign Legal Center (CLC), the Clinton Campaign, and the DNC violated federal election laws when they failed to disclose the motive and funding for the Russian connected infamous "pee-pee dossier". Here is the catch – CLC is a Soros funded organization.

The complainant states: [T]he DNC and Hillary for America reported dozens of payments totaling millions of dollars to the law firm Perkins Coie with the purpose described as "Legal Services" or "Legal Compliance Consulting," when in reality, those payments were earmarked for the firm Fusion GPS, with the purpose of conducting opposition research on Donald Trump.

Citing FEC statements of policy that the "purpose of disbursement" section on campaign disclosure forms "must be sufficiently specific to make the purpose of the disbursement clear," CLC is arguing these facts constitute a violation of federal election law. This is a clear indication that Hillary Diane Clintons time is up.

CLC is no right-leaning group. Yes, Soros also has a finger in controlling more right-leaning media groups.

The officially non-partisan

CLC, has taken donations from left-wing activist billionaire George Soros, is still partly funded by a Soros family foundation, and lists opposing the effects of the Citizens United decision as part of its raison d'être.

The group is most well-known in conservative circles for playing a leading role in urging Lois Lerner's IRS to investigate Tea Party groups in 2010 and 2011. The CLC recently filed an IRS complaint against Alabama U.S. Senate candidate Roy Moore's religious foundation and hired a prominent Obama administration official as its senior ethics director.

What interest does a Hungarian billionaire have in promoting "non-partisan" equality in America? It is not a conspiracy anymore that there are those working to bring about a one world government or "society" as Soros likes to say. It is clear.

They are sacrificing up the Swamp Goddess. The new world order will not be compromised for any one individual.

Mark Zuckerberg Involved in Significant 2020 Election Interference, New Documentary Exposes

Rebecca Downs
www.townhall.com

Big Tech continues to be called out for its role in interfering with the 2020 election. On Thursday, as I covered, Republican members on the House Judiciary Committee sent a letter to Facebook's Mark Zuckerberg and Twitter's Parag Agrawal about censoring the Hunter Biden laptop story. Also on Thursday, Citizens United President David Bossie went on Fox News' "Hannity" to promote a new documentary, "Rigged: The Zuckerberg-Funded Plot to Defeat Donald Trump." Bossie will host and narrate the film, which will premiere at Trump's Mar-a-Lago Club in Palm Beach, Florida, on April 5, which is when it will also be available for download.

While tweets from those in the mainstream media, such as CNN's Jim Acosta, delight in mocking the film, Bossie has responded in kind. More importantly, though, is that a press release for the documentary notes that the documentary relies "on the 990 forms non-profit groups must file with the Internal Revenue Service," and "traces the river of cash flowing from the Chan Zuckerberg Initiative to a pair of 501(c)(3) non-profit organizations, the Center for Tech and Civic Life (CTCL) and the Center for Election Innovation and Research (CEIR). CTCL received $328 million in "Zuck Bucks," while CEIR was given

The documentary includes exclusive interviews with Trump, who expresses concerns about what he says is "a rigged election," also emphasizing that people "have to hold people accountable" for such interference. There are other interviews with other figures, however, emphasizing the deep dive involved.

The press release also features statements from key figures about just how big this project was when it comes to Zuckerberg's influence in the 2020 election:

"We'll follow the money and uncover the startling facts behind Election 2020," says Citizens United President David N. Bossie, who hosts and narrates Rigged. "In order to answer the question once and for all: What happened? And to ensure it never happens again."

The "Strategist in Residence" at the Chan Zuckerberg Institute is none other than David Plouffe, President Barack Obama's former campaign manager. Joel Benenson, the chief strategist for Hillary Clinton's 2016 campaign, has also been employed by the Chan Zuckerberg Institute as an advisor.

For its part, CTCL was founded by Tiana Epps-Johnson and Donny Bridges, who also worked together at the New Organizing Institute, a group labeled by The Washington Post as the "Democratic Party's Hogwarts for digital wizardry."

"In my mind, they were clearly rigging the election," former House

Speaker Newt Gingrich says in the film. "I'm not convinced that the election was stolen on Election Day. I think the bigger story was that across the whole country for months, there was an effort to rig the election to make it virtually impossible for Trump to win."

"$400 million is the most money any individual has ever spent to win a presidential campaign in the history of our country," Sen. Ted Cruz (TX) says in the film.

There were roughly 2,500 grants awarded by the CTCL across the country. They have claimed that more Trump jurisdictions received grants than did Biden jurisdictions. However, records indicate that this statistic is enormously, and perhaps purposely, misleading, because of the approximately 160 grants of $400,000 or more - totaling some $270 million - an incredible 92 percent of those funds went to jurisdictions carried by Joe Biden in 2020.

The grants given to government elections offices were described as facilitating the "safe administration of public elections during the COVID-19 pandemic." But even a cursory examination of the eventual expenditures - by outlets like NPR - shows that a tiny fraction of the money was spent on Personal Protective Equipment.

"This is all about the great intention of, hey, we're gonna make it more secure," Louisiana Attorney General Jeff Landry says in Rigged. "We're gonna make it more safe. We want to make sure that people feel comfortable coming to the poll, but that's not what they ended up doing." Instead, the funds were used to increase mail-in voting and drop boxes, to hire and train poll workers, to expand voter registration efforts, and to encourage people to vote early and by mail. In short, with the huge majority of the money supporting jurisdictions won by Joe Biden, the effort amounted to an enormous get-out-the-vote campaign in key Democrat areas.

"On a locality-by-locality basis, the government was not a neutral player," says Ken Cuccinelli, National Chairman of the Election Transparency Initiative. "Under the banner of nonpartisan funding, it engaged in political activities, specifically get-out-the-vote activities in Democrat areas."

"I don't think we have to blame China or voting machines," Cleta Mitchell, a Senior Legal Fellow of the Conservative Partnership Institute/Election Integrity Project, says in the film. "I think we can look straight in the eye of Mark Zuckerberg and all these left-wing groups that infiltrated the offices with half a billion dollars. And that's why Joe Biden won."

The documentary will focus on the key battleground states of Wisconsin, Arizona, and Georgia, where there have been particular concerns about the election and vote counts there. "Rigged" will address the cash flow from CTCL and CEIR in those states, where Biden's combined margin of victory was at about 42,000 votes, and which were key in handing Biden an electoral victory and the election.

Pfizer Document Dump: ‘Every Day, New Facts Surface’ As Revelations Continue – Dr. Naomi Wolf [VIDEO]

Pfizer is currently “in a defensive position” against 250 attorneys & 1,500 volunteers...

by: Gregory Hoyt
www.redvoicemedia.com

Dr. Naomi Wolf recently appeared on Steve Bannon’s War Room to provide an update on her and her team’s efforts to help uncover the potential crimes committed by Pfizer in the rollout of their COVID jab.

While speaking with Bannon, Wolf stated that things are moving along, but urged those wanting to see the fruits of their efforts immediately to please “be patient” as attorneys are still pouring over the copious amount of Pfizer documents that have been released.

“Every day, new facts surface, so I just want people to be patient and understand that there are two tracks. In two weeks, I will present a summary, interim report, and press release about the findings for the media, for followers, for the community that have come up. However, that is not the same track, which the lawyers reminded me last night is a longer track of the attorneys – these 250 attorneys – deliberating and creating subcommittees and making decisions themselves, and asking for follow-up documents from the volunteers. That’s going to be a longer process and it’s also a confidential process.”

Wolf then digressed briefly to share a letter she’d received from someone who was keeping up with her efforts, describing how this person started watching Bannon’s War Room after their brother suffered an adverse reaction from the COVID jab.

This person, who Wolf did not openly name, had decided to volunteer their time to read the Pfizer documents that have been made available, who later became shocked when reviewing the Pfizer trial data of the jabs that resulted in to have been committed.

“So, again, I can summarize some of the crimes that surfaced in the lawyers meeting without giving details – and I really want to credit, it’s not me, it’s being driven by Craig Klein, my CRO, these 1,500 volunteers, these lawyers – I’m just facilitating and supporting... But some of the crimes that surfaced were racketeering, RICO, denial of civil rights, medical malpractice, currently “in a defensive position” and expressed an immense amount of gratitude to those who’ve been volunteering their time in this effort.

“These people are in a defensive position, it’s too early to say we’ve won, but it’s so powerful to have all of you empowered with your great skills, your great passion, and intelligence – whoever you are out there. You’re filing criminal charges, you’re filing civil charges, or you will be filing criminal charges after tonight, and that’s making a difference.”

Red Voice Media would like to make a point of clarification on why we do not refer to any shot related to COVID-19 as a “vaccine.” According to the CDC, the definition of a vaccine necessitates that said vaccine have a lasting effect of at least one year in preventing the contraction of the virus or disease it’s intended to fight. Because all of the COVID-19 shots thus far available have barely offered six months of protection, and even then not absolute, Red Voice Media has made the decision hereafter to no longer refer to the Pfizer, Moderna, or Johnson & Johnson substances as vaccinations.

severe injuries and even death.

“By his close reading, he’s identified huge headline number one, are all the adverse events filed, reported in VAERS? And the second thing he’s pointing out is a competitor vaccine – which is not an mRNA vaccine, which doesn’t have conflicts of interest with government agencies – was shut down and Pfizer kept going in spite of deaths.”

Bannon briefly interjected, asking Wolf whether she could provide a general outline of what crimes the attorneys reviewing the Pfizer documents have uncovered. Saying she couldn’t go into great specifics, Wolf detailed some of the alleged criminal and civil offenses believed device malpractice, and denial of informed consent – but the thing that came up over and over again was fraud.”

Even though the fight is far from over, Wolf stated that Pfizer is

Is Influenza Caused by Electromagnetic Radiation (EMR)?

Bill Lowstuter
billllowstuter@msn.com

Every global pandemic in the past 300 years has been immediately preceded by a major new electrification of the earth.

I invite you to suspend judgment and examine this material with a skeptical but open mind, as it contains information critical for our physical and economic health, both as individuals and as world citizens. Think of the references supplied here [email for a full list] as jumping-off points for further investigation of the topics that most interest you. Once you validate one or two of them, I hope you will feel compelled to explore more of this wide landscape, to gain a broader and more balanced understanding of the risk/benefit ratio of increased 5G radiation.

Prologue from "The Invisible Rainbow, A History of Electricity and Life" by Arthur Firstenberg:

"We live today with a number of devastating diseases that do not belong here, whose origin we do not know, whose presence we take for granted and no longer question. What it feels like to be without them is a state of vitality that we have completely forgotten."

"Anxiety disorder," afflicting one-sixth of humanity, did not exist before the 1860's, when telegraph wires first encircled the earth. No hint of it appears in the medical literature before 1866."

"Influenza in its present form, was invented in 1889 along with alternating electrical current. It is with us always, like a familiar guest – so familiar that we have forgotten that it wasn't always so. Many of the doctors who were flooded with the disease in 1889 had never seen a case before."

"Prior to the 1890s, diabetes was so rare that few doctors saw more than one or two cases during their lifetime. It, too, has changed its character: diabetics were once skeletally thin. Obese people never developed the disease."

"Heart disease at that time was the twenty-fifth most common illness, behind accidental drowning. It was an illness of infants and old people. It was extraordinary for anyone else to have a diseased heart."

"Cancer was also exceedingly rare. Even tobacco smoking, in non-electrified times, did not cause lung cancer."

About Contagion" by Dr. Thomas Cowan

1728, Sunspot activity: Sunspot activity and northern lights returned in 1727, after being completely absent for nearly a century according to astronomers. An estimated 2 million people died of a novel "flu" during the ten-year period sunspot activity peaked, from 1728-1738.

1875, Telegraph: Starting in 1875 doctors around the world documented a new disease called neurasthenia (now called Chronic Fatigue Syndrome), which struck TeraWatt Hours and in 2020 is now 27,100 TeraWatt Hours. This amount of energy on the power grid has converted the predominant frequency of the earth from 8 to 60 cycles per second, dramatically upsetting the natural rhythms of all life on earth.

1918, Radio: The Spanish Flu of 1918 took hold just after warring governments around the world blanketed the earths in strong radio waves for the first time in history. Those living on military bases, where the antennas were routinely installed, were the most vulnerable. A common symptom was bleeding – from the nostrils, the gums, ears, skin, stomach, intestines, uterus, kidneys and brain. Many died of hemorrhage in the lungs, the victims literally drowning in their own blood. It sickened an estimated 500 million people and 20 million died. Mainly people who took the Spanish flu vaccination died. Currently, there are now 31,445 radio and TV stations in the U.S. broadcasting high energy electromagnetic frequencies 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

1957, Radar: The installation of worldwide radar technology was completed in 1957, the very same year as the "Asian Flu" pandemic, also known as H2N2. There were 1.1 million deaths worldwide and 116,000 died in the USA. Data on the total number of radar installations is not available.

1968, Satellites: In 1968, the U.S. launched twenty-eight satellites into the Van Allen belt to spy on China, ushering in the "Hong Kong Flu". Also known as H3N2 with one million deaths worldwide and 100,000 in the U.S.A. From 1960 to 2020 there have been over 6,111 satellite launches, some with multiple payloads all sending and receiving electromagnetic radiation.

"These are the diseases of civilization that we have also inflicted on our animal and plant neighbors, diseases that we live with because of a refusal to recognize the force that we have harnessed for what it is. The 60-cycle electric current in our house wiring, the ultrasonic frequencies in our computers, the radio frequencies in our televisions, the microwaves in our cell phones, these are only distortions of the invisible rainbow that runs through our veins and makes us alive. But we have forgotten. It is time to remember".

patients with chronic fatigue, weakness, exhaustion, headaches, dizziness, tinnitus, floaters in the eyes, a racing pulse, heart pains and palpitations, depression and anxiety. Dr. George Beard noted that the disease spread along the routes of the telegraph lines, which formed a complete web around the world by 1875.

1889, Modern Electricity: The year 1889 marked the beginning of the modern electrical era and the beginning of a deadly global flu pandemic. It spanned the globe in 5 weeks and killed 1 million people. In 1990, the total worldwide usage of electricity was 12,000

1981 to present, Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome (AIDS): Since 1981, 36.3 million people worldwide are reported to have died of HIV/AIDS. Between 1981 and 2006, almost $200 billion was invested in AIDS research but a causal virus was never identified. AIDS is not a specific disease at all. It simply means a collapse of the cell-mediated immune system. With the collapse of the immune system, you see conditions like frequent infections and cancers. It is the same disease as the condition caused by immune-suppressive drugs used to prevent people from rejecting organs such as a heart or kidney after a transplant. Thus AIDS was caused by environmental factors such as Electromagnetic Radiation and not a virus.

1992, 2G Cell phones introduced: The first cell phones worked on frequencies up to 2,100Megahertz. Between 1992 and 1997 there were 257 Million 2G phones sold worldwide. The 2G service is now being phased out.

1996, 3G Cell Phones introduced: The onset of cell phone service upgrade to 3G in 1996 resulted in greater levels of mortality in major cities like Los Angeles, New York, San Diego and Boston. In the years since, wireless signals at multiple frequencies have filled the atmosphere to a greater and greater extent, along with mysterious outbreaks like SARS (severe acute respiratory syndrome) and MERS (Middle East respiratory syndrome). Between 1998 and 2007, there were 5.8 Billion 3G phones sold worldwide. Not all of those are still in service.

2009 to 2010, 4G Cell phones Introduced - Swine Flu Pandemic H1N1: Originated in Mexico in spring of 2009 before spreading to rest of world. In one year, the virus infected as many as 1.4 billion people and killed between 151,700 and 575,400 people according to the CDC. The 2009 flu primarily affected children and young adults, and 80% of the deaths were in people younger than 65, the CDC reported. Between 2008 and 2018 there were 15.7 Billion 4G cell phones purchased worldwide. Not all of these are still in service.

2014-2016, West Africa Ebola: Ebola ravaged West Africa between 2014-2016, with 28,600 reported cases and 11,325 deaths. The first case reported was in Guinea in December 2013, the quickly spread to Liberia and Sierra Leone. The bulk of the cases and deaths occurred in these three countries.

2019, 5G: In October of 2020, 5G, the 5th Generation wireless technology was "turned on" for the first time in Wuhan China. On November 1, China electrified a grid of 10,000 5G antennas – more than existed in the whole U.S. – all concentrated in one city. Subsequent outbreaks of "coronavirus" around the world coincide with the activation of 5G networks in various cities. Between 2019 and 2021 there were 4.2 billion 5G phones sold worldwide. Most of these are probably still in service and have replaced usage of the earlier phone versions. 5G frequencies are toxic to humans and all animal life. Extensive, peer reviewed testing has demonstrated that the 5G frequencies interfere with the electrical functioning of the human body and can cause all of the symptoms exhibited by Covid-19 and the many flus.

The installation of 5G antennas in the U.S. continued during the Covid19 lockdowns. Elon Musk is in the process of launching tens of thousands of Starlink 5G satellites into low earth orbit claiming it is in our best interests.

It appears to the discerning mind that the now chronic ills of modern humankind can be traced back to the cellular disruptions caused by the pervasive electromagnetic frequencies blanketing our world. As more 5G antennas and satellites are installed our health will continue to deteriorate. There are fewer places to get away from it and rejuvenate natural energies. It is not the Covid virus – it is the electromagnetic radiation causing the illness!

World Government Summit advisor to former US president George W. Bush. Before joining the Council, Kempe was a prize-winning editor and reporter at the Wall Street Journal for more than 25 years.

In fact, the Atlantic Council had a fairly large presence at the World Government Summit, including appearances by Defne Arslan, senior director of the Atlantic Council IN TURKEY program, and Olga Khakova, Deputy Director of Global Energy Center of Atlantic Council.

For those who are unfamiliar with the Atlantic Council, I first reported in May 2018 that Facebook had partnered with the thinktank connected to NATO. I wrote: “The Atlantic Council of the United States was established in 1961 to bolster support for international relations. Although not officially connected to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, the Atlantic Council has spent decades promoting causes and issues which are beneficial to NATO member states. In addition, The Atlantic Council is a member of the Atlantic Treaty Organization, an umbrella organization which “acts as a network facilitator in the Euro-Atlantic and beyond.” The ATO works similarly to the Atlantic Council, bringing together political leaders, academics, military officials, journalists and diplomats to promote values that are favorable to the NATO member states. Officially, ATO is independent of NATO, but the line between the two is razor thin.

Essentially, the Atlantic Council is a think tank which can offer companies or nation states access to military officials, politicians, journalists, diplomats, etc. to help them develop a plan to implement their strategy or vision. These strategies often involve getting NATO governments or industry insiders to make decisions they might not have made without a visit from the Atlantic Council team.

This allows individuals or nations to push forth their ideas under the cover of hiring what appears to be a public relations agency but is actually selling access to high-profile individuals with power to affect public policy. Indeed, everyone from George H.W. Bush to Bill Clinton to the family of international agent of disorder Zbigniew Brzezinski have spoken at or attended council events.”

Less than 6 months after Facebook and The Atlantic Council announced their partnership, more than 500 FB pages were accused of being “Russian disinformation” and deleted. The pages largely consisted of anti-war, police accountability, and independent journalism outlets. These pages and journalists directly challenged the narratives spun by the School of Government of Atlantic Council. Again, the presence of the Atlantic Council should not be taken lightly. They are the representatives of the Western Bloc of the New World Order.

The Russia-Ukraine conflict also factors into another panel title, Getting Off Russian Gas: Practical Steps for Europe, featuring more of the Atlantic Council goons, including Richard Morningstar, Founding Chairman of Global Energy Center, Atlantic Council, and Phillip Cornell, Senior Fellow of Global Energy Center, Atlantic Council.

The World Government Summit also spent considerable time discussing the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) which form the core of the Agenda 2030, itself part of The Great Reset agenda. Some speakers discussing the SDGs include:

– Dr. Mahmoud Safwat Mohieldi, the United Nations Special Envoy for the 2030 Finance Agenda, who is speaking on a panel about Arab Nations and the UN Sustainable Development Goals.

– María Sandoval, First Lady of Colombia of Government of Republic of Colombia, discussed “The Role of Women in Achieving the SDGs”. The first day of the summit was actually dedicated to the role women will play in rolling out the so-called New World Order and global governance schemes. Sandoval celebrated the fact that Colombian President Ivan Duque launched “the first national development plan that was directly aligned with the SDGs, and this of course was something that provided a wider spectrum for women to act react and participate in these achievements of the SDGs.”

– Catherine Russell, Executive Director of United Nations Children Fund, participated in a panel titled SDGs for Every Child. The Summit also addressed the Environmental, Social, and Governance criteria (ESG) promoted by the UN in a panel entitled, Where does ESG Go From Here?

Dissecting the World Government Summit: Ukraine, SDGs, ESG, Blockchain, and AI

While many of the names in attendance might be unfamiliar to a western audience, the speakers are men and women who absolutely play a vital role in international geopolitics. Some of the featured speakers include:

– António Guterres, Secretary General of United Nations, giving a talk titled Is Our World Today... Our World of Tomorrow?

– Dr. Tedros Ghebreyesus, Director General of World Health Organization

– David Pekoske, Administrator of USA Transportation Security Administration

Secretary General of OPEC, speaking about “Oil and Gas in a Net-Zero World”

The Russia-Ukraine conflict was also part of the discussions. Notably, Maxim Timchenko, CEO of DTEK, made an appearance. His bio states, “under his leadership, DTEK has evolved from a regional conventional energy company into Ukraine’s largest private investor as well as leading energy company.”

The appearance of Mr. Timchenko should not be overlooked, especially because he appears in a discussion called Post-Crisis Ukraine: New Energy for a New Europe, featuring Olga Khakova of the Atlantic Council, and Paula Dobriansk, Senior Fellow, Harvard Kennedy ESG investing is also sometimes referred to as sustainable investing, responsible investing, or socially responsible investing (SRI). The practice has become an increasingly popular way to promote the SDGs. The panel featured Neil R. Brown, Managing Director, KKR Global Institute and KKR Infrastructure. KKR Global Institute is the same organization that former US Army General and former CIA Director David Petraeus joined in 2013.

Additionally, a panel entitled, Is the World Ready for A Future Beyond Oil?, featured H.E. Suhail bin Mohamed AlMazrouei, Minister of Energy and Infrastructure of Ministry of Energy and Infrastructure; H.R.H Prince Abdulaziz Al Saud, Minister of Energy of Ministry of Energy – Kingdom of Saudi Arabia; and H.E. Masrour Barzani, Prime Minister of Kurdistan Regional Government.

Blockchain and Artificial Intelligence are a major piece of the Technocratic vision for 2030, so naturally there were several discussions on the use of blockchain, AI, and even 6G (the eventual successor to 5G technology).

There was a discussion on blockchain technology in a panel entitled, The Future of Blockchain... A Perspective from Industry

Pioneer, featuring Changpeng Zhao, Chief Executive Officer of Binance, among others. Other panels focused on De-Fi (decentralized finance) featured Jamie Crawley, Editor in Chief of Coin Desk, and Charles Hoskinson, Co-Founder of Ethereum. I have recently reported on Hoskinson's statements regarding using blockchain to implement ESG and SDG programs and the danger they pose to privacy and liberty.

There was also a panel focused on the introduction of Central Bank

Digital Currencies entitled, CBDCs and Stablecoins: Can They Co-Exist?. The CBDCs schemes being rolled out in nations around the world are a crucial component of The Great Reset.

One panel focuses on a concept called Human Meta-Cities, which sound like a rebranding or updating of the so-called Smart Cities. The panel description states, "in a world of change and rapid technological development, we shed light on a new vision for planning future cities centered around human needs and aspirations. This new framework will help governments refine their role in planning the new world taking advantage of the digital transformation opportunities that are taking place."

Another panel which makes clear the Technocratic dream was entitled, The Invisible Government: Eliminating Bureaucracy Through Technology. The description of the panel states: "Technology is creating new possibilities as it simplifies processes, enables instant feedback, and ultimately improves customer experience. In the public sector, digitalization and artificial intelligence are creating a new model of governance – "invisible" governments that are more agile, responsive, human-centric, and data-driven. In this session, global policymakers and experts will share their bold vision and experience in utilizing technology to eliminate bureaucracy and innovate government services for the future."

What goes unsaid in the panel description is that making the government "invisible" will actually lead to a world of no accountability for government and politicians. In reality, the Technocrats imagine a world where the tyrannical technological systems are invisible and the average person has zero recourse for preventing exclusion or punishment based on their social credit score.

This is the world these technocrats — many of whom are unelected — envision. The only way this vision will not come to pass is if the people of the world throw their televisions away, ignore the celebrity drama, and start exiting from these slavery systems.

MindMatters: "They Enjoy the Infliction of Pain": Psychopaths, Wokeness, Ponerology - with Michael Rectenwald

Listen to the entire video at www.sott.net/article/466100

Many see through the destructive thoughts, emotions and policies of Leftist political dogma - thanks in large part to the actions and behaviors of their acolytes in academia, the media and other institutions. But few have as direct experience of it - and the wit and guts to call it out for what it is and share that understanding of it with stark clarity and aplomb - as today's guest. After being "softly" ejected from his position at New York University for his critical tweets of the deleterious SJW culture he was witnessing,

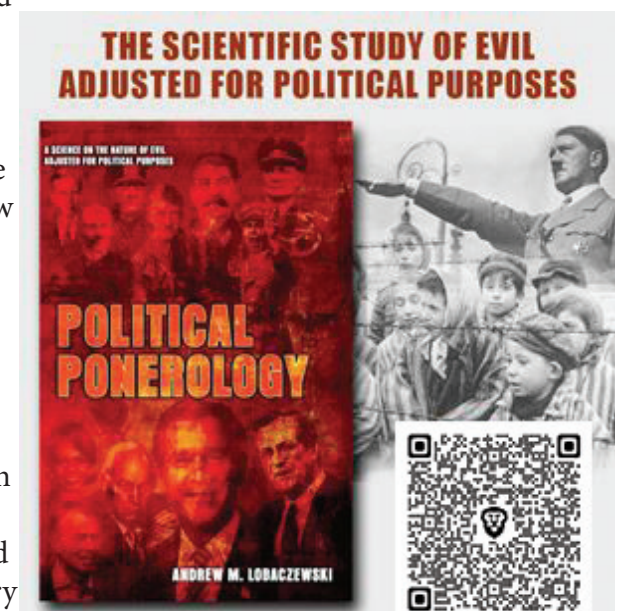

Prof. Michael Rectenwald steeled himself to examine even further the phenomenon he was witnessing and became a victim of.

With his books Springtime For Snowflakes and Google Archipelago, and his prolific output of essays and articles, Michael not only documents his own personal journey through various intellectual currents and his own higher values, but also examines how these themes overlap with Big Digital and macro developments such as the now infamous and imminent Great Reset. This week on MindMatters we get to discuss some of the most important issues facing Western society and culture today with one of the strongest advocates for personal and political sanity to grace the stage.

An added bonus, we celebrate the release of the new edition of Dr. Andrew Lobaczewski's Political Ponerology, edited by MindMatters' Harrison Koehli, with a foreword by Prof. Rectenwald, in which he describes how ponerology helped explain his own experience of Leftist totalitarianism, and why the book's explanatory power is so compelling and crucial for better understanding our world.

Ivanka Trump Is A Member Of

The World Economic Forum's Young Global Leaders

by Jacob M. Thompson
winepressnews.com

"Ivanka has been included in Fortune magazine's prestigious '40 Under 40' list (2014) and was honored as a Young Global Leader by the World Economic Forum (2015)."

With more and more people beginning to finally take notice of the World Economic Forum's plans, such as them touting what they call "The Great Reset," and "You'll own nothing and be happy" by the year 2030, along with the push for "stakeholder capitalism," and the "4th Industrial Revolution."

Agenda 2030: You'll Own Nothing And Be Happy

What used to be considered conspiracy theory is now more and more being considered to be conspiracy fact, as the way the worldwide flow of politics, economics, societal events, and religious beliefs, all seem to be heading into the same direction in tandem; more people are looking into those helping to push these agendas along.

While many pundits continue to push that Klaus Schwab's philosophy of a Great Reset is purely a progressive construct, in reality, there are plenty of "conservatives" that are working towards these same goals.

One such example is former President Donald Trump's daughter Ivanka Trump. According to official archived pages of the Trump White House website, Ivanka is described as: Advisor to the President. In her role, she focuses on the education and economic empowerment of women and their families as well as job creation and economic growth through workforce development, skills training and entrepreneurship.

Prior to her father's election as forty-fifth President of the United States, Ivanka oversaw development and acquisitions at the WEF in 2004, that recognizes political figures, activists, media moguls, and more, for what they view as exemplary work and achievement in their field.

According to the Young Global Leaders website: Klaus Schwab, Founder and Executive Chairman of the World Economic Forum, created the Forum of Young Global Leaders in 2004 to help the world meet increasingly complex and interdependent problems. His vision was to create a proactive multistakeholder community of the world's next-generation leaders to inform and influence decision-making and mobilize transformation.

Through the Forum of Young Global Leaders, Klaus Schwab envisioned facilitating earnest dialogue and friendships across cultures to bridge divides, fostering fresh thinking and dynamic new ways of collaboration to shape a more positive, peaceful and prosperous society.

Our growing membership of more than 1,400 members and alumni of 120 nationalities includes civic and business innovators, entrepreneurs, technology pioneers, educators, activists, artists, journalists, and more.

Aligned with the World Economic Forum's mission, we seek to drive public-private co-operation in the global public interest. We are united by the belief that today's pressing problems present an opportunity to build a better future across sectors and boundaries.

While I cannot list all the names of the people who are associated and recognized by this group, here is short of some of the names you may be familiar with:

- * Jacinda Ardern
- * Vladimir Putin
- * Justin Trudeau
- * Emmanuel Macron
- * Angela Merkel
- * Bill Gates
- * Jeff Bezos
- * Tony Blair
- * Mark Zuckerberg
- * Lachlan Murdoch
- * Anderson Cooper
- * Chelsea Clinton
- * Nikki Haley
- * Gavin Newsom
- * Alicia Garza (founder of Black Lives Matter)
- * Johnathan Soros (son of George Soros)

So, this provides context into who Ivanka Trump is rubbing elbows with and is accepted into their club.

the Trump Organization alongside her brothers Donald Jr. and Eric. Ivanka led some of the company's largest and most complex transactions.

Ivanka graduated from the Wharton School of Business at the University of Pennsylvania in 2004. As an entrepreneur, Ivanka founded an eponymous lifestyle brand. She is the author of two New York Times and Wall Street Journal bestselling books.

This is Medicine? American children's hospitals are teaching young boys how to tuck in their genitalia so they can pretend to be girls!

by: Ethan Huff

Young boys with physical illnesses that require hospitalization are now being solicited by Doernbecher Children's Hospital in Portland to tape their genitalia and visit local sex shops in order to become their true transgender selves.

The "progressive" medical facility has created a handout for "gender-confused" boys explaining to them how to hide their private parts in order to appear more female. The pamphlet also encourages boys to visit "sex-positive" perversion stores that sell "gender-affirming" clothing items as well as sex toys, videos and more."

Entitled "Safe Tucking," the handout from Doernbecher Children's Hospital gives a step-by-step breakdown about "genital tucking," which it says will help to "minimize or hide the contour (bulge) of their genitalia, creating a flatter and more feminine appearance," according to Pride in Practice, an LGBTQP – the P stands for pedophilia – "health care" site.

Using tape to strategically tuck one's genitalia can help to "reduce any concerns you have about your body, how your clothes fit and how safe you feel in public," the handout further explains.

Doernbecher Children's Hospital

also recommends that young boys put their testicles "inside your body," which can cause damage to boys' reproductive organs.

"Press gently on your testicles with two or three fingers, and try to guide them into the inguinal canals," the handout instructs.

"This can feel strange at first, possibly even uncomfortable. You should not feel faint or nauseated or have extreme pain. If you do, take a break and try again later."

"Once the testicles are tucked, pull the penis back between your legs," it adds. "If you find yourself getting aroused, take a break and try again later. An erection will make it impossible to tuck."

Doernbecher Children's Hospital promotes puberty blockers for boys, calls young men "people with testicles"

The handout does admit later on that all this shoving, tucking and taping has "some risks," including urinary tract infections, problems with urine flow, and "twisting or inflammation in the testicles."

It still, however, encourages boys to harm themselves physically because doing so will supposedly help to "affirm" their play-pretend fantasies about becoming a girl simply by moving body parts around to try to hide them from view.

Going to local sex shops will also help to "affirm" a boy's gender dysphoria, according to Doernbecher Children's Hospital. Even though they are for people age 18 and older, "they offer appointments before or after hours for younger shoppers," the handout explains. "You can schedule an appointment by calling them or emailing," it adds.

If this is not considered grooming, then we do not know what is. Also, what kind of parent would allow his or her young son to make an after-hours appointment at a local sex shop to play around with his genitalia? Oh, right, a Portland parent would.

It gets even worse, though. Doernbecher Children's Hospital also has a puberty blockers handout for young boys that pushes them to block their normal male development. Young boys are not actually young boys, according to the hospital. They are just "people with testicles," and if they want those testicles to never form or to be removed if they have already formed, then Doernbecher is ready and willing to slice and drug in order to make that happen.

"Jesus says, 'It is impossible but that offenses will come: but woe unto him, through whom they come! It would be better for him if a millstone were hung around his neck and he were thrown into the sea, than that he would offend one of these little ones and cause them to stumble' (Luke 17:1,2)," commented someone at the Western Journal about what the future holds for those at Doernbecher Children's Hospital who are committing all these evil against innocent children.

Ukrainian biolabs operator Metabiota linked to EcoHealth Alliance, World Economic Forum and Jeffrey Epstein

By Ethan Huff

It was recently uncovered that a company called Metabiota is in charge of managing the Pentagon-run bioweapons laboratories in Ukraine, Africa and elsewhere. We know now that Metabiota founder Nathan Wolfe is also linked to the infamous EcoHealth Alliance, as well as the Global Virome Project (GVP), the World Economic Forum and pedophile Jeffrey Epstein.

GVP, it turns out, is the sister “non-profit” group of Metabiota, and is also funded by a range of Department of Defense (DoD) branches. It is also funded by Hunter Biden’s Rosemont Seneca and Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) venture capital company In-Q-Tel – and “this is merely scratching the surface of those backing the biolabs in Ukraine,” reported the Daily Exposé.

Metabiota’s current lead investor is Pilot Growth Management, which was co-founded by Neil Callahan, its current CEO. Callahan also sits on the Board of Advisors at Metabiota, having co-founded and formerly worked as managing director at Rosemont Seneca Technology Partners (RSTP).

Callahan’s name appears many times on Hunter Biden’s infamous laptop, which makes sense as Rosemont Seneca Partners and Rosemont Realty are both offshoots of Rosemont Capital, an investment fund founded in 2009 by Hunter Biden and Christopher Heinz, John Kerry’s stepson.

Metabiota was a subcontractor for Black & Veatch, which signed contracts for the construction and operation of biolabs in Ukraine, Georgia and elsewhere. Google was also involved, having

Two of the core partners in USAID’s PREDICT project, which involved creating an early warning system for new and emerging diseases in 21 countries – including coronaviruses spread by bats, were none other than EcoHealth and Metabiota, with Wolfe being one of the project’s co-authors.

Together with Peter Daszak, Wolfe put together what would become a study on coronaviruses in bats that was published in 2017 right around the time Donald Trump became president.

“PREDICT was a forerunner of the more ambitious Global Virome Project (GVP),” reported the Exposé, adding that GVP is a founding member of The Trinity Challenge, which was launched in conjunction with Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus of the World Health Organization.

“Although Wolfe was one of initiators of GVP in 2018, on their website he isn’t shown as being directly involved,” the Exposé further revealed. “However, Edward Rubin, Metabiota’s chief scientific officer, is a board member of GVP. And it was Rubin who, in 2016, attended a Rockefeller Foundation forum alongside Daszak to discuss the GVP.”

The news outlet added: “In an interesting twitter thread – linking Wolfe and Metabiota to EcoHealth, DARPA, the Wuhan Institute of Virology and the World Economic Forum – HashTigre shared an image of page from a book Wolfe wrote in 2012 titled, ‘The Viral Storm: The Dawn of a New Pandemic Age,’ where he thanked friends including deceased pedophile Jeffrey Epstein and biotech venture capitalist Boris Nikolic.”

Nikolic was named as the “back-up executor” on Epstein’s will, it turns out, and Wolfe has been spotted in photographs hanging out with Ghislaine Maxwell.

“Always nice to see a name from Epstein/Maxwell associate Nathan Wolfe’s CIA funded company Metabiota – as the first name on an article related to dangerous virus collection tactics/research in China,” HashTigre tweeted. Be sure to read the rest at dailyexpose.uk/2022/03/20 contributed at least $1 million to the effort.

It seems like all the evil players are connected to this thing.

Wolfe is a World Economic Forum (WEF) Young Global Leader, it turns out (as is Ivanka Trump). In 2021, WEF awarded Metabiota for being a “Technology Pioneer. He also sat on the editorial board of EcoHealth Alliance, as well as on Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency’s (DARPA) Defense Science Research Council (DSRC).

Wolfe has received more than $20 million worth of funding from Google.org, The Skoll Foundation, the National Institutes of Health (NIH), the National Science Foundation, the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, the National Geographic Society, Merck Research Laboratories and various branches of the DoD.

MAIM THEM EARLY! White House demands “early” genital mutilation surgeries for children to convert them before they have the presence of mind to say NO!

by: Ethan Huff
NaturalNews.com

Joe Biden’s criminal regime is doing everything it can to try to mutilate the genitals of your children.

The Pedophile-in-Chief’s people are seeking to normalize “early” transgender surgeries for the youngest children possible, the goal being to “transition” them into other genders before they have the chance to cognitively object.

The White House claims that administering puberty blockers and other sex-altering hormones as early as possible to children is also “crucial” for their healthy development, along with having various body parts removed or added.

On the Biden regime’s declared “Transgender Day of Visibility,” Hunter’s dad’s handlers flagged a resource from the Office of the Assistant Secretary for Health that says it is intended to: “... inform parents and guardians, educators, and other persons supporting children and adolescents with information on what is gender-affirming care and why it is important to transgender, nonbinary, and other gender expansive young people’s well-being.”

So-called “gender-affirming care” is a buzz-phrase commonly used by the transgender mafia and the media to make the genital mutilation of children sound more palatable. In truth, this “care” involves removing the breasts of young girls and slicing off the penis and testicles of young boys. These missing body parts are often then replaced with a bastardized re-creation of the opposite sex’s genitals.

Some children who are told by adult groomers that they are “trans” also opt to have their face and other bodily features reconstructed to make them appear more like the opposite sex.

Gender-bender pharmaceuticals are part of the process as well, falling under the wide-reaching umbrella of “gender-affirming care.” Biden’s Office of the Assistant Secretary for Health explains “Gender-affirming care is a supportive form of healthcare.” “It consists of an array of services that may include medical, surgical, mental health, and non-medical services for transgender and nonbinary people.” “For transgender and nonbinary children and adolescents, early gender-affirming care is crucial to overall health and well-being as it allows the child or adolescent to focus on social transitions and can increase their confidence while navigating the healthcare system.”

Thousands (millions?) of children’s lives are being destroyed by the transgender mafia

The White House insists that genital mutilation, hormone blockers and “affirmation” are all important because they have supposedly been “shown to increase positive outcomes for transgender and nonbinary children and adolescents.” “Gender-affirming care is patient-centered and treats individuals holistically, aligning their outward, physical traits with their gender identity,” the messaging sheet goes on to state.

The Biden regime’s lies on this subject are easily disproven by the flood of former transgenders who came forward back in March on “DeTrans Awareness Day” to tell of the horrors they suffered due to encountering this type of messaging and believing it. Many of them are no longer able to function as normal human beings because their endocrine systems are shot and they are now missing important body parts crucial for healthy living.

One detransitioner by the name of Michelle, who had trouble fitting in growing up – many people who are convinced by others to go trans suffered in early childhood – says she was groomed online by others into making bodily changes that she now regrets. “I was vulnerable, desperate, and young,” Michelle tweeted on DeTrans Awareness Day. “On top of that, I had people online telling me ‘if you think you’re trans, you are’ and ‘cis people don’t think about gender this much.’ I heard the ‘only 1% regret it’ statistic, and I thought I’d be fine. That could never be me.”

April Fools... U.S. Boosts Import of Russian Oil While Urging World to Impose Ruinous Sanctions

www.strategic-culture.org

04/01/2022

www.sott.net/article/466236

The contradictions that stem from American and European arrogance have finally hit breaking point.

The United States reportedly boosted its import of Russian oil last month, according to official figures from the Energy Information Administration. The extra imported volume accounted for a 43 percent increase.

This is in spite of an executive order by U.S. President Joe Biden on March 8 to ban all energy and hydrocarbon commodities from Russia. That draconian measure was declared in response to Russia's military intervention in Ukraine that was launched on February 24.

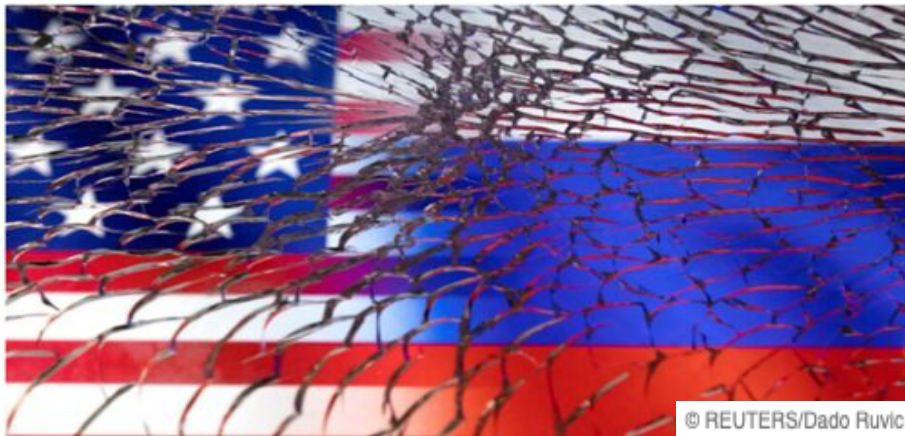

Admittedly, the United States does not rely heavily on Russia for its crude oil supply. Russia is not in the top five suppliers to the U.S., according to the EIA. Nevertheless, the apparent ramping up of U.S. purchase of Russian oil strikes a bizarre chord.

It comes as Washington is demanding European allies to cut energy trade with Russia. And it's not just the Europeans that are being ordered to do so. India and other Asian countries are also harangued by the Americans to likewise reduce imports of Russian gas, oil and petroleum products.

Given today's date, one could be forgiven for thinking this is some kind of April Fools joke. It's not. But it is a laughable illustration of how reckless and ridiculous American hubris has become.

Washington wants its so-called allies to commit economic suicide by cutting off vital energy trade with Russia all in a bid to satisfy its de facto Cold War agenda of trying to isolate Moscow and draw all countries under U.S. hegemony.

general economic inflation (or poverty in plainer language) has become the central political problem across the world. The Covid-19 pandemic is part of the precipitating cause to accelerate the demise of U.S.-led global capitalism. The tensions between the West and Russia over the conflict in Ukraine have further amplified the problem.

The war in Ukraine could have been avoided if the United States and its NATO allies had engaged respectfully with Moscow to resolve its oft-repeated security concerns. But the Western powers repudiated Russia's proposals and appeals for genuine diplomacy.

There are tentative signs that several rounds of talks between Ukraine and Russia – the latest round hosted by Turkey this week – might be making progress. The Ukrainian side has reportedly accepted Russia's demands for neutrality from NATO and recognition of Moscow's historic claim to Crimea as well as the independence of the Russian-speaking Donbass republics. That outcome is similar to what Russia had been demanding in the months before the tensions boiled over into war. The unnecessary suffering is a tragedy that could have been averted if the U.S. and NATO had any reasonable attitude.

It remains to be seen, however, if Washington will cast a veto over the talks making progress since it is supporting the Kiev regime with weapons and financial loans. One suspects peace is not what the United States wants ultimately. It wants, indeed needs, permanent conflict and tensions because that in essence is the way it maintains U.S. global hegemony.

To everyone else though, it should be clear that a political settlement in Ukraine and more generally between the West and Russia is urgently required for peace and long-term security.

It is counterproductive that Washington and its European allies are insisting on harsher sanctions against Russia instead of addressing the root causes of NATO expansionism and U.S.-led transatlantic dominance. This is only leading to a downward spiral in the global economy on a historic scale that will impact every nation, particularly the poorest and most vulnerable, to price shocks.

American hubris and European

The same geopolitical agenda applies to China, although that has taken somewhat of a backseat given the immediate tensions with Russia.

The U.S. may not have large dependence on Russian oil and gas, but many other countries do. Russia is among the largest global suppliers of gas, oil and petroleum products. Washington's attitude is one of demanding others to cut their noses off to spite their face, or put another way, to shoot themselves in the foot. Meanwhile, the American rulers think they can insulate themselves from harm. Although this week, in a sign of how futile this all is, Biden ordered the biggest release of U.S. strategic oil reserves in order to dial down crazy American pump prices.

It is astounding the level of arrogance among American politicians. If so-called allies conform to Washington's dictates, it would result in immediate devastation of their economies. In the not-so-long run, too, the American economy will also be ruinously impacted from global supply chains.

The global energy crisis and servility seem to know no bounds. The Western nations froze Russia's foreign assets amounting to $300 billion. Now Russian President Vladimir Putin has decreed that all future gas purchases must be made in rubles instead of dollars or euros. Failure to meet Russia's demands will result in gas exports being cut off. The reciprocal move by Moscow is justified. If the Western powers feel entitled to unilaterally change the terms of trade then why shouldn't Russia?

It is incredible that some European governments seem willing to toe the American line even when that line is leading them over the abyss. The economic repercussions of this masochistic policy are unleashing social mayhem as citizens in Europe and the U.S. bear the brunt of excruciating living costs. The Biden administration and his Democratic Party are facing an electoral backlash in the forthcoming mid-term elections this autumn.

But the sense is that the political repercussions are much bigger than election backlash. The U.S. policy of confrontation with Russia and China and others is re-creating a Cold War global order that is completely untenable and is rapidly breaking down. European lackey governments are going along with this self-defeating ideology out of cowardice or failure of understanding. Even though the upshot is the ruination of their economies and societies.

The United States through its pursuit of hegemony is cratering the foundations of its own power. European allies following this insanity are causing their own demise from economic devastation. The political elites in the West are fomenting social chaos in their own nations.

Russia's move to price its gas and other commodities in rubles is a tangible step away from the era of reserve currencies of the dollar and euro. China, India and other nations are beginning to embrace a world without Western financial diktat. A new global multipolar order is emerging in which Western powers are no longer tolerated as privileged.

The contradictions that stem from American and European arrogance have finally hit breaking point. Their attitude of, "Do as we say, not as we do", is the damndest April Fool joke today.

Pfizer Wants to Inject Children up to 6 Months Old

Reporting for Info Wars, Greg Reese. ReeseReport.com
<https://banned.video>

Because some human beings care about their children, VEARS was established in 1990 as an early warning system to identify negative reactions and side effects of vaccination, which makes sense, but there are major problems. It is managed by the FDA and the CDC, which explains why the database requires a class to learn how to find anything. Taking the time to actually file a report is voluntary and out of fear of losing their jobs or being considered an anti Vaxxer. Nobody wants to speak ill of the all holy vaccine, let alone make an official report. It is estimated that only 1% of vaccine injuries ever get reported to VAERS. So that means when VAERS reports over 44,000 adverse reactions and 90 deaths one can expect it to be as much as 4.4 million adverse reactions and 9000 deaths. And these numbers are only from the age five to 17 group. conservative numbers put it at 10% which is half a million children that have been wounded. And killed from an unneeded, unwanted experimental gene therapy shot that we were lied to every step of the way.

Thanks to the open VAERS project, which is built upon the various data. The public can easily search these reports and see for themselves. People are reporting adverse reactions such as chronic pain, loss of hearing and taste, talking gibberish and acting out aggressively. And these are the mild cases. There is a tsunami of major brain damage, heart disease and fatalities.

Edward Dowd has analyzed the data and has reported an 84% increase in deaths among ages 25 through 40, which is the same amount of lives lost to the Vietnam War.

Toby Rogers estimates that big pharma kills twice as many people that died in World War II every single year.

The Press ignores this, because it's not enough. They want your newborn babies as well. Pfizer is pushing to have children as young as six months old, given a shot that we know is potentially fatal. Even though children are never at risk and are still not at risk. The United States has been forcibly injecting infants and children with experimental vaccines for years. And now they want to add the infamous clot shot. Thanks to virtue signaling mothers, some children have already been getting it in the womb, which is resulting in miscarriages, still births and deaths from breastfeeding on toxic genetically modified mother's milk. Pfizer is planning on submitting another application for emergency use authorization in early April. That's about 18 million children under five who could be sacrificed to the altar of Big Pharma and political correctness. If Pfizer can achieve permanent liability protection from the FDA, who they control, then they can add the mRNA gene therapy shot to the childhood vaccine schedule where it will enjoy permanent liability protection under the 1986 National Childhood Vaccine Injury Act. The same crooks are putting a judge on the Supreme Court who openly defends leniency towards crimes that involve child rape.

They're coming for your children and they will not stop.

If you still care about the human race and are looking for something you can do right now. You can go to Toby Rogers at substack and read his urgent call to action for more info.

Here's Your 'Red Pill' Moment for the Russia-Ukraine War

by: Wayne Allyn Root
<https://townhall.com>

It's time for your red pill. Something smells rotten in Ukraine. The story is rotten, rancid, hinky; the story just doesn't add up.

President Joe Biden and the media desperately want you to believe Russia is the bad guy and Ukraine is a little angel. They want you to fall in love with underdog Ukraine. They want you to support America getting involved on behalf of Ukraine.

To get your support, they need the media to sell you a bill of goods. But it just doesn't add up. First, Biden is the one who funded Russia's invasion. Biden killed our pipelines, killed coal and banned drilling, which made us dependent on Russian oil -- which made Russia filthy rich and arrogant. Biden paid for this war.

Second, if Russian President Vladimir Putin is the "bad guy," if Russia is evil, why is Biden continuing to buy billions of dollars of oil from Russia every day? Does this make sense? Unless it's pure "commie theatre."

Connect the dots. Biden is a feeble, feckless old puppet with dementia. George Soros pulls Biden's strings. Soros is on the side of Ukraine. Soros recently said the whole world must support Ukraine. It's been reported Soros funded Volodymyr Zelenskyy and then installed him as president of Ukraine -- one of the most corrupt nations on the earth.

Keep in mind, evil billionaire Soros is obsessed with hatred for America. He desperately wants to destroy our country. Soros has funded the invasion of our borders. He helps pay for illegal aliens (many of them criminals, MS-13 gang members and murderers) to enter America.

Soros also funded and elected all the horrible, communist district attorneys across America. Soros' DAs are hellbent on destroying America. They have turned our big cities into killing zones where murderers run free without even posting bail while law-abiding citizens are stripped of guns and persecuted for defending themselves.

Soros has paid for the destruction of America. Soros is one of the most evil enemies in our history. If Soros funded the leaders of Ukraine and put them in power, this has to be a trap. Ukraine must be a "bad guy."

Now we come to the mainstream fake news media. Has the media ever told the truth in the seven years since former President Donald Trump came down that escalator? It's been nonstop lies, fraud and propaganda. The media tells you any lie that advances the cause of Democrats, Soros and the destruction of America.

Now after seven years of lies and propaganda, suddenly you trust the media? You believe this one time they're telling the truth? This one time they have America's best interests at heart? Even though (pure coincidence) Soros is on the same side as the media. They're all one big happy family on the side of Ukraine.

I'll tell you what I think.

No. 1: I think this war is a WMD: a weapon of mass distraction to get your mind off the disasters Biden has created at home, including open borders, massive inflation, vaccine mandates crippling the economy, the worst crime wave in history, the worst retreat in U.S. military history from Afghanistan and $6-per-gallon gas. [Pfizer's empire. I'm not telling you to take Russia's side. They are "bad guys."

But I know if Soros is behind Ukraine, then Ukraine is also a "bad guy." If Soros wants us involved, I know this war is not in America's best interest. I know the media is feeding us a load of lies and propaganda -- under Soros' direction.

Like Trump, I have only one dog in this hunt. I'm ONLY for "America First." This war is nonsense. It doesn't involve us. We should not be sending billions of dollars in aid or sending billions in military weapons to Ukraine. I don't want this to turn into WWII. I don't want my kids or your kids dying over Ukraine. We need to stay a million miles away from this conflict.

This isn't war, it's commie theatre. It's a WMD: weapon of mass distraction. Don't believe a thing you read or see coming from the fake news media.

Take your red pill and just say "NO" to this wag-the-dog moment. Wayne Allyn Root is known as "the Conservative Warrior." incriminating documents getting released]

No. 2: This is pure "wag-the-dog" theatre to save Biden from the worst polls in modern history. Instead of hating Biden, they want you to hate Putin.

No. 3: This is all part of Soros and Klaus Schwab's "Great Reset." They want to make us all obedient serfs and slaves. They need World War III as a distraction while they destroy America and capitalism and take your freedoms away. Here's my conclusion. I'm not "for" Russia. I'll never be a fan of Putin. The Nazification of the West Reporting for Info Wars, Greg Reese.

<https://banned.video/ReeseReport.com>

Zelensky recently described Putin's de-Nazification of Ukraine as laughable, and the brainwashed flock of the mainstream media certainly must agree. They have been told that Nazis wave the American flag and vote Republican and the brainwashed flock, always believe what they are told. But those of us still cleaving to our sanity. Remember that Nazis were members of Hitler's National Socialist Party from the 1930s and 40s. And not only were there 1000s of Nazis in western Ukraine back then, it is still a big part of their national pride. Nazi war criminal Stephan Bendera is a national hero. And there are actual Nazi organizations still thriving in Ukraine, including the Azoff regimen, which is now a part of Ukraine's armed forces.

The Nazification of Ukraine is well documented and easily verified, as is the Nazification of America.

During the 1930s, there were many notable Americans who supported the Nazis, such as Prescott Bush, Henry Ford, and Fred Koch, banks such as JP Morgan and Chase Manhattan, companies such as General Motors, Standard Oil, Shell, and IBM.

Major General Smedley Butler of the US Marines was asked by these powerful entities to help them install National Socialism in the United States "had heard before the congressional committee, the highest representation of the American people under a subpoena to tell what I knew of activities, which I believe might lead to an attempt to set up a fascist dictatorship. I was supposed to lead an organization of 500,000 men, which would be able to take over the functions of government." And when that planning failed, war broke out in Europe with the support of the banks and these American corporate entities.

After World War Two, only about a dozen were brought to justice in the Nuremberg trials. The Catholic Church and the Vatican. Help 1000s of Nazis evade capture via the ratlines, which brought them mostly to South America, where they built an entire town in Argentina.

In Operation Paperclip the United States secretly absorbed 1000s of Nazis into the US government, where they led the NASA space program and helped pioneer the military industrial complex, as well as Big Pharma.

Many believe that being a Nazi is synonymous with being anti Jewish. Which may have been true in 1930s Germany, but it's complicated.

Many high ranking Nazis themselves, including Adolf Hitler, were Ashkenazi Jews, who can be traced back to the notorious Khazars, who mysteriously mass converted to Judaism about 1300 years ago in the region, now known as Ukraine. Ashkenazi Jews ran the political Zionist movement in Germany, and for several years, the Zionists were the only political party allowed to operate inside Germany by the Nazis. Both the Zionists and the Nazis wanted their own ethnically pure state. And for years before their final solution, the Nazis helped the Zionists in their efforts to establish the State of Israel within Palestine. It was far more complicated than mere racial hatred.

Naziism can best be described as fascism and fascism is godlessness.

The word Nazi is a made up slur but the word fascist can be clearly defined. It stems from the Latin word fascis, which is a bundle of sticks banded together to form a deadly weapon. An old school meme that represents the deadly power of an organized mob, a gang. When men lack a personal relationship with God. They inevitably band together out of fear, submitting to the strong man for a small taste of dominance.

They become just another beast in the jungle. And today we can clearly see this fascist mentality in all of these godless groups. The woke the satanists, the transhumanists in the genocidal mass murderers of the great recent are all merging together into one giant foskey godless men and women banded together out of fear. Fascists, serving the strong man, spiritually speaking, are the weakest among us, and so far, we are allowing them to destroy everything.

UK Drops Mask Theater While CDC Keeps Traveling Americans Muzzled

By: Jefferey Jaxen

UPDATE 3/17: JetBlue, American, Southwest pilots sue CDC over federal mask mandate

UPDATE 3/16: Senate Passes Resolution to End Mask Rules on Transportation

Set to expire on March 18, the Transportation Security Administration (TSA), on direction of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), extended mask mandates on public transportation.

The rest of the world is opening up and moving into the new normal of endemic Covid, where it is less lethal than a bad flu and early treatments are being allowed by forward-thinking leaders bucking the CDC.

Trade organizations representing some of the biggest players in the U.S. travel industry including airlines American, Delta and United, and hotel companies Marriott and Hilton according to NPR, all but begged the TSA and CDC in an open letter to end 'pandemic-focused' restrictions and replace them with "endemic-focused policies of a 'new normal' that enable travel to resume fully, freely and safely." No dice.

The American mask has been more successful as a tool for psychological manipulation than a legitimate public health measure having any meaningful impact on the trajectory of the pandemic.

Meanwhile, Heathrow Airport, the largest in the UK and second biggest in Europe, has just announced an end to wearing face coverings at the airport effective March 16. British Airways and Virgin Atlantic are set to make mask-wearing optional.

All four nations in the UK have also agreed to eradicate the remaining international travel restrictions, allowing all travelers, regardless of vaccination status, to enter the UK without testing from March 18 onwards, the media is reporting.

The CDC's past due and unscientific muzzle extension, as implemented by the TSA, has received hard pushback from all sides.

The Informed Consent Action Network, via its CEO Del Bigtree is pushing a lawsuit against America's public health leaders from both the HHS and CDC to end the mandates. The suit adds "It is an affront to all Americans that the federal government requires Americans to wear masks...while not imposing the same requirement on themselves.

Representative Thomas Massie (R-KY) is leading sixteen of his colleagues in a lawsuit against the CDC. "The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention does not have the legal authority to force people traveling on commercial airlines to wear masks," Massie said in a statement. "Congress never passed a law requiring masks on commercial flights. This lawsuit targets the faceless bureaucrats who are behind the CDC's unscientific regulation so that this illegal mask mandate can be brought to a permanent end."

Kentucky Senator Rand Paul says he will force a vote on legislation to repeal the travel mandate saying in a statement: "As the entire world is learning to live with COVID, the federal government still uses fear mongering to stubbornly perpetuate its mandates, rather than giving clear-eyed, rational advice on how to best protect yourself from illness," the senator continued. "That is why I am forcing a vote to repeal travel mask mandates on public transportation and put a stop to this anti-science, nanny state requirement."

Of note, a recent survey from YouGov and Americans for Prosperity found that 49% of people said their trust in the CDC has gone way down or slightly down since the start of the pandemic. The survey of Americans also found: 59% said public officials did a somewhat or very poor job of being transparent with the public about the information being used and the reasoning regarding any restrictions or requirements. 55% think officials have done a poor job re-assessing any restrictions or requirements. 52 % said officials did a poor job keeping any restrictions or requirements as focused and narrow as possible.

Will the TSA's mask policy extension survive until April 18th or will it be repealed beforehand by the increasing legal, political and social pressures?
