It's MAYDAY, MAYDAY, MAYDAY!

A call to the nation for repentance and thanksgiving on May Day.

By: Emerald Robinson 05/01/2025
EmeraldRobinson.substack.com

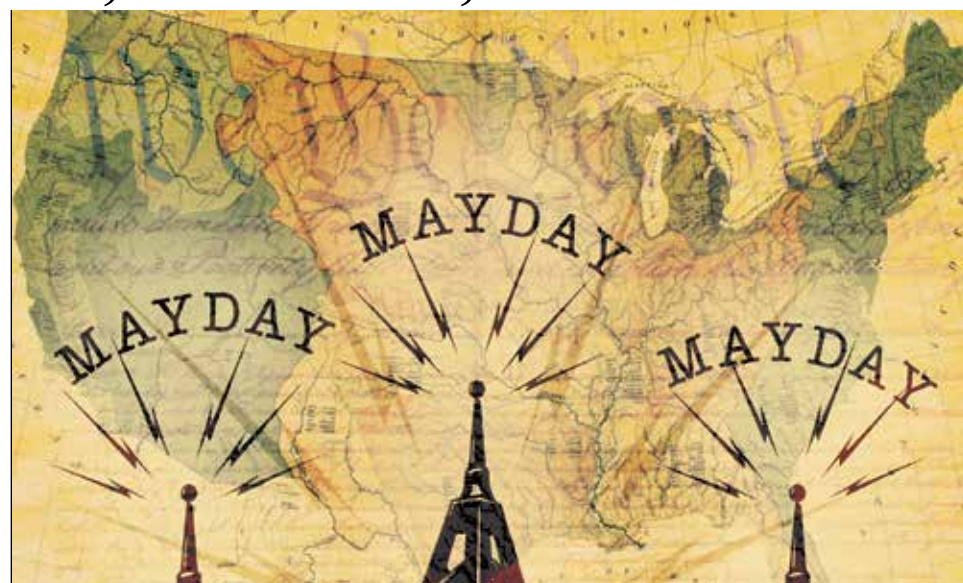

Repeating "mayday" three times in an emergency radio broadcast is an internationally recognized distress signal.

May Day — May 1st — also has significant symbolism and meaning in the International Communist movement and the occult. Pope Pius XII instituted the feast of Saint Joseph the Worker in 1955. He established the feast on May 1st — the same day as the secular "May Day" celebration — to counter the Marxist and pagan view of work and emphasize the spiritual dimension of labor, exemplified by Saint Joseph's life.

What does this have to do with America? Because spiritual warfare matters in military and political warfare. The Marxist threat to liberty is also a demonic threat to liberty. The threats are inseparable. The inability to recognize this does not make the spiritual warfare threat of Marxism any less real. That's called: a lack of discernment. You may not believe in the existence of God and Satan, but our enemies do — and they side with Satan.

In the Book of Jonah (Chapter 3, Verses 8-9) the King of Nineveh recognized judgement against his nation and proclaimed: "But let people and animals be covered with sackcloth. Let everyone call urgently on God. Let them give up their evil ways and their violence. Who knows? God may yet relent and with compassion turn from his fierce anger so that we will not perish."

The Bible acknowledges the spiritual responsibilities and authorities of a head of state. So too President Trump has a spiritual authority over the United States, unparalleled to any other. For the same reasons that Pope Pius XII instituted the feast of Saint Joseph the Worker in 1955, President Trump should declare May 1st as a Day of National Repentance and Thanksgiving.

Repentance because in 2020, communists successfully stole the national election, and with it stole one of God's greatest gifts to mankind: the gift of individual Liberty and Sovereignty.

Repentance because nobody in statutory positions of authority with a duty to defend the Constitution did anything meaningful to "stop the steal."

Repentance because Congress, the Judiciary, and state governors did nothing to prevent an illegitimate Marxist regime (with a mentally impaired figurehead) from being installed.

Repentance because these same people in a statutory position to defend the Constitution, for four years, did nothing meaningful to oppose the tyranny the Marxist revolutionaries were consolidating with their stolen powers, operating under the "Color of Law."

Thanksgiving because (as evidence of the election fraud of 2020 is exposed in judicial proceedings) the public will find out that 2024 was all set to be stolen using identical fraudulent techniques. Yet by the Grace of God, the persistent efforts of the same small group of patriots (whose evidence of the steal in 2020 was ignored by feckless politicians) uncovered sufficient technical evidence to prevent a steal in 2024.

Thanksgiving because stopping the steal in 2024 let the duly elected President of the United States be installed. Installing the legitimate President only gives us a beachhead that is not yet secured — and a second chance to defeat the Marxist revolutionaries that still control key institutions in government, society, and religion.

We call on all Americans who understand the gravity of our current peril to educate themselves on the identity, tactics, doctrine, and objectives of our enemies — and to pray to God in Repentance and Thanksgiving that we may persevere "and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves, and our Posterity" since that's the exact reason We the People did "ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America."

Letter from the Editor

by: Leesa Bolden, LAc
TFPP Editor in Chief

Well we didn't get any appreciable April showers but we are getting some rain now and the cactus are happy, as are the people. We have so much to be grateful for. What are you grateful for? Many are grateful that the town has become so quiet, I for one miss the snowbirds already and hope they are warm and safe.

Happy Mother's Day to all mothers, without you this world would be bleak to say the least. I hope you are able to be with your mom to celebrate and thank her for all that she has done. If she has passed, I pray that your heart is filled with the joyous memories you had together and feel the love she has for you.

May 26th is our day of remembrance to all our soldiers who made the ultimate sacrifice for our Country. I pray for all the families out there who lost someone they love to war. I enjoy imagining a World without wars. A world where everyone has respect for one another and could come to a peaceful agreement on all matters. I understand this is not attainable. We live in a world of opposites, of Yin and Yang. Sometimes darkness sets in and it seems as though the scales have tipped toward evil and hatred. We begin to only see the negative in the world. These are the moments we must feel and express more love and gratitude. We must collectively tip the scales back toward love.

Some of you are wondering what Marilyn Kennedy has been up to. Well she has been taking care of some personal issues but next month she will be reporting on some very interesting shenanigans. One of the stories she is working on is the story of a retired couple in Bouse who were away with medical issues. Upon their return home, they discovered that squatters moved in.

Story has it that arrests were made by the County Sheriff's office, but not of the squatters - they were allowed to stay. The couple had to fight in court to regain possession of their home. The judge ordered the squatters to leave but gave them ~30 days to move out. Six days before they were to be out, neighbors heard loud explosions and the entire house was burned to the ground. The fire was so big that the next door neighbor's back porch and a portion of their home was destroyed. What a tragedy! The couple has since moved away. Who could blame them?

We must begin to get back to the foundations of our Constitution. We live in an amazing country with an incredible history and many Americans are still unappreciative of it. I really think this tragedy is simply due to the brainwashing that came from the Communist Manifesto that has been so very effective. I have said many times, if you don't love this country, leave! If you want to learn more about what you can do to get us back on track, join the John Birch Society. There is a chapter near you that meets monthly, find yours.

I hope you enjoy the paper this month and learn a lot that you didn't know or remember something you had forgotten. God bless us all.

"Back to the 80s" Night Delivers a Thrilling 5th Race of the Season

By: Chris Vindhurst

Blythe, CA – Blythe Speedway roared to life on April 12 for the fifth race of the 2025 season with a "Back to the 80s" theme. Fans showed up in retro costumes, participated in contests, and enjoyed a perfect spring evening of high-energy stock car racing.

VFW Commander John Hoge opened the evening with the Pledge of Allegiance, followed by the National Anthem. The racing action was nonstop across all three main events.

Just Wash It Street Stocks

Four cars took the green flag for the 25-lap Street Stock feature.

#88 Dwight

Kelly started on the pole with #34 Larry King to his outside. On lap 2, #7 Mark Barth made an aggressive move for the lead, resulting in contact and an early caution. After the restart, Barth took the lead, with #07 Richard Selph followed him through the pack.

A second caution flew when King hit the backstretch wall, but thankfully he was uninjured. Selph lined up next to Barth on the restart and the two battled for several laps. Barth's strong run ended when a tire failure sent him spinning, bringing out another caution. Selph took over the lead with Kelly in pursuit. Barth suffered another tire issue and had to retire, setting up a two-car duel. When the checkered flag flew, it was 2024 division champ Richard Selph (#07) earning his first win of the season. Followed by #88 D. Kelly,

#7 M. Barth and #34 L. King

Just Pawn It Mini Stocks

Seven cars lined up for the Mini Stock 25-lapper, led by pole-sitter #18 Dwight Kelly. Early contact between Kelly and #21 Jayden Barth sent Kelly spinning and brought out a caution. On the restart, Kelly regained the lead but was quickly challenged by #20 Landen

Barth, #88 Richard Selph, #21 Jayden Barth, and #04 Wynona Ragland.

L. Barth passed Kelly and took the lead, with his brother Jayden in second. Selph and Ragland battled close behind. Selph made a move around Jayden for second, while Ragland climbed to third and soon overtook Selph as the laps wound down.

With six laps to go, Ragland passed L. Barth for the lead to thunderous cheers. A final caution led to a five-lap sprint. On the restart, Ragland pulled away as contact between Selph and L. Barth dropped Selph briefly, though he recovered. #04 Wynona Ragland held strong and captured her first career win at Blythe Speedway. Followed by #20 L. Barth, #88 R. Selph, #D2 J. Hollingsworth and #21 J. Barth

Factory Stocks
Seven cars started the Factory Stock feature. Pole-sitter

#01 Derek King led early with a pack of challengers close behind: #88 Richard Selph, #66 Chris Vindhurst, #95 Dwight Kelly, and #791 Erik King.

Vindhurst worked through the field, eventually passing Selph and then Kelly to move into third. He and Selph traded the second spot before Vindhurst secured it and set out after D. King, who had built a sizeable lead. After a hard-fought chase, Vindhurst reached D. King's bumper in the closing laps.

With the white flag out, Vindhurst dove low in turn one, making slight contact that sent both cars sideways. They raced side-by-side down the backstretch and through the final corners. Coming out of turn four, D. King got loose, and #66 C. Vindhurst slipped underneath to take the checkered flag by just .108 seconds, marking his fifth win of the 2025 season. They were followed by #88 R. Selph, #791 E. King and #95 D. Kelly

The Cultural Consequences of the Welfare State

By: Daniel Morena Viton
Mises.org 04/28/2025

The foundations of the welfare state can be found in Bismark's idea of the social state, which, at first, was used to fight socialists on a political level, but hell is full of good intentions. Bismark in the 1880s created compulsory insurance for accident, health, disability, and age (pensions). He called them "state socialism" and explained that all measures were socialist, and the state had to adapt to a little more socialism. What he wanted was to make the workers more dependent on the state and on him. That is, to have a dependent population under the ideology of national collectivism. The idea was that it would generate dependence and loyalty, which the German government needed to dominate Europe. He saw it as an advantage to have 700,000 pensioners drawing rents from the state, especially those who did not have much to lose and mistakenly believed they had much to gain through public pensions.

Jesús Huerta de Soto explains that the conception of the human being as a creative actor leads to accepting the ethical principle that every human being has a natural right to appropriate the fruits of his own creativity. It is a fundamental principle that makes the market economy possible and which is attacked by state interventionism. The welfare state (failing to comply with this ethical principle) produces a generalized lack of coordination and imbalance in the different areas in which it acts, hindering economic development. These attacks on human creativity also mean that the welfare state is slow to innovate, always lagging behind its competitors in the development and application of new technologies.

Hans-Hermann Hoppe explains the consequences of social democracy from several perspectives. During the 19th century, suffrage increased progressively until the beginning of the 20th century, when universal suffrage for men, and later for women, became generalized. In the 20th century, compulsory military service was almost universalized, taxes, indebtedness, and public employment increased. They destroyed the gold standard to replace it with fiat currency, the savings rate stagnated, and the preparation of intellectual elites and public education declined. Inversely, crime rates, dependency, structural unemployment, parasitism, psychopathy, and hedonism increased. The reason is that for the public, government moderation has only disadvantages. When you receive a subsidy without a quid pro quo there is no incentive to be more productive in the future. As a result, productive activity and long-term forecasts decline. Redistribution taxes the most productive individuals by removing their incentive to produce, leading to the infantilization and moral degeneration of civil society.

One who best exemplifies the economic and social disasters of the welfare state is James Bartholomew in his book The Welfare State We're In, who shows its evolution in the United Kingdom. He shows how in the early 20th century the masses went to soccer matches in suits or how in the 1950s the winners of boat races politely shook hands with their rivals. By contrast, in the 2000s the winners made inappropriate gestures or soccer matches were full of alcoholic and violent hooligans in tracksuits. It also shows how private charity through donations fell from around 10 percent of wages during the Victorian era to 1 percent today, and how 25 percent of Britons now rely on government grants.

Bartholomew tells how the Victorian era and its virtues flourished from 1834 onwards, from Edwin Chadwick's 1832 report on the Poor Laws (which guaranteed free food and lodging) causing the incentive to seek work to be reduced, creating a culture of corruption and crime, what we might call "lumpen" culture. The government did not learn. In 1911, Churchill succeeded in introducing national unemployment insurance, even though the reality was that 10 million of the 12 million covered were already covered through friendly societies or workers' unions. These laws, which became more and more widespread, once again encouraged unemployment.

At the social level, unemployment increases suicide attempts tenfold and is the major cause of depression and unhappiness. So is incivility and delinquency, especially among young people. For example, in Northern Ireland, it was found that teenagers were twice as likely to commit crimes if they were not working or studying. However, incivility does not only translate into crime. For example, in Birmingham it was found that while men are more likely to swear and threaten, women are more likely to engage in antisocial behavior such as not giving up their seat to a pregnant woman.

Bartholomew also explains the problems of the NHS (British public health service) and public education. On the NHS he denounces the long waiting lists and how it has caused (in conjunction with the public university) a reduction in the number of students becoming doctors. Public schools encourage behavioral problems because they keep all students compulsorily schooled in a prison type setting where a gang atmosphere is quickly created and power is held by the strongest. Alienated and bored children quickly become delinquent. This means that teachers have to take charge of pacifying instead of teaching, often without success. The reality is that the poorest end up with the worst education and the worst healthcare.

The case of pensions is notable, which went from 14 percent in 1905 for those over 60 years of age to 57 percent in 2003, eliminating all incentive to save and impoverishing in general terms. While friendly societies fostered a sense of responsibility and created natural incentives to do good and live decently, due to the explicit declarations made by their members, the welfare state has led to the elimination of this responsibility to act decently, encouraging incivility, vandalism, and law-breaking.

James Bartholomew remarks that out-of-wedlock childbearing was between 4-5% between 1900 into the early 1960s, but in 2010 it was at 40%. In the 1950s, for an unmarried young woman with children, there were virtually no social benefits, the burden was on her and her family, and abortion was illegal, so there was less incentive to have sex outside of marriage. Parents educated their children not to get any woman pregnant, because they could ruin her, being a disaster for her. On the contrary, in 2003 the state paid single mothers a "living wage" and often provided free housing, while the families only received more and more tax burdens. This has dire consequences, even with regard to violence. The risk of domestic violence in marriage in 2001 was 0.2%, while cohabitation was 1.1% —more than 5 times higher. The risk of children being abused is 30% higher if their natural mother lives with an unmarried man, but also 20% higher if they are an unmarried cohabiting couple. In addition, the risk of children of single parents dropping out of school at 16 increases by 60%, having sex before 16 by 80% and smoking or doing drugs before 15 by 100%.

All of these policies and trends affect the poor the most. For example, divorce rates are 150% higher in the lowest income group compared to the highest. In contrast, married adult men are happier and healthier than single men being, for example, half as likely to commit suicide or half as likely to drink. As we have explained, the welfare state has greatly harmed the poor, condemning them to unemployment and social marginalization. Therefore, if we really care about the poor, we must end the welfare state.

Killing Deadly Anti-Americanism

By: Selwyn Duke 05/01/2025
TheNewAmerican.com

Hatred is like darkness: The more there is, the less you can see. For this reason, the object of hatred is never perceived clearly, ever painted in a darker color than the most shadowy recesses of its soul. Anti-American wrath is no exception. Listening to the hate-America-first crowd, you'd think our country was Hell on Earth instead of the best land this side of Heaven.

The United States does have its defenders, though. One of them, residing in The Boot (Italy), wants to give anti-Americanism the boot. Michele San Pietro describes himself as "a sixty-year-old Italian who loves America." He has visited our country five times. He says that is a number that would be higher had his budget allowed.

Among other things, San Pietro appreciates our Constitution and that our political system has remained intact for almost 250 years. As for anti-Americanism, he notes that it's present both in the U.S. and abroad.

An Irrational Hatred

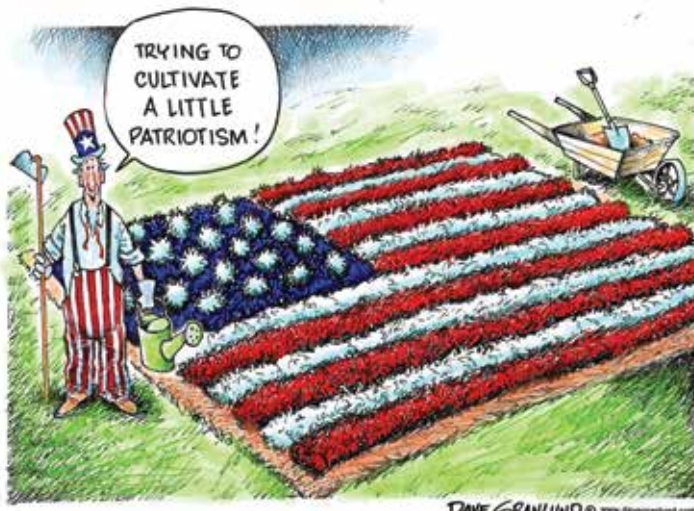

The problem is worsening, too. As I reported recently, two in three Gen Zers believe America is an unfair society. Not surprisingly, 40 percent of them also claim our Founding Fathers "are better described as villains than heroes." These are (do note) beliefs that correlate with anti-Americanism.

San Pietro bemoans it. As he writes in American Thinker, alluding to anti-Donald Trump sentiment: "No aversion toward a politician justifies an implacable hatred toward his or her country. Unfortunately, we know what implacable hatred toward a people as such may cause. So any kind of such hatred should be avoided, because it's a wrong and dangerous hatred. ...Nowadays you only have to look at the pages of Facebook (invented by an American) to realize how intolerable boorish anti-Americanism has become. It's certainly a minority of degenerates, most of whom don't know a thing about the United States, but because of that we should not underestimate the problem. Give them an inch and they'll take a mile. Regrettably, such anti-American keyboard lions hardly ever find anyone who contradicts them. Even Americans don't react a lot: the overwhelming majority of them love their country, but they know it's far from perfect, and they tend to think it's legitimate to criticize it.

We Can't MAGA Unless We MARA

San Pietro is right about how even "good" Americans often fail to defend their country. In the least they're confused and sometimes cowed. This is incredible considering how much America has to recommend her. For example, San Pietro credits the U.S. with Italy's freedom and that's a good place to start.

Being the sole possessor of atomic weapons in WWII's wake, we could've conquered the world. Nazi Germany or the Soviets and virtually every empire in history surely would have. We didn't. Instead, we spent money getting our former foes back on their feet and then let them spread their wings. It's a striking departure from historical norms.

In fact, virtually every common anti-American rap is risible. We didn't invent slavery but inherited it; then, along with other Western nations, we eliminated it. We didn't originate human-rights abuses; we did develop the gold standard by which they could be identified as human-rights abuses. The list goes on, too, but I won't. For the problem isn't a lack of facts but misguided feelings. If we're to MAGA, we must MARA: Make attitudes realistic again. As to this, we should not defend America; that's being defensive. Rather, we should mount an offense for America. For the "best defense is a good offense."

Stop With the "Not Perfect" Business

One of the first steps could be to stop taking pains (as even San Pietro does) to emphasize that "America isn't perfect." Why? A story: I used to spend a lot of time with a couple of nephews. Since they were homeschooled back then and lived in the hinterlands, their parents and

I (when I was around) were their whole world. They had many questions, as children will. One day the older boy, about five at the time, posed one and I replied, "I don't know." He looked at me startled, and said "Really?!" I was revered as omniscient, apparently.

Grown now, he takes for granted that Uncle Selwyn doesn't know everything. It's an adult characteristic to instinctively understand that nothing and nobody apart from God is perfect. It shouldn't have to be mentioned and what does stressing it imply? Imagine you opened a speech about your mother with, "Now, we all know my mother isn't perfect." My, she must be quite the reprobate if that warrants emphasis.

The irony here is that it is the most imperfect among us, the most vice-ridden people, who hate America most. To them we should quote Jesus: "First take the plank out of your own eye, and then you will see clearly to remove the speck from your brother's eye." If you find a perfect country, don't go there. For then it will cease being so.

True Patriotism

Another attitudinal truth relates to patriotism. Philosopher G.K. Chesterton addressed it while critiquing famed writer Rudyard Kipling's patriotism, a quality the latter was known for. As Chesterton wrote in his 1905 book Heretics, "Kipling admires England, but he does not love her; for we admire things with reasons, but love them without reasons. He admires England because she is strong, not because she is English." Obviously. If you love your mother, this doesn't cease because she develops some serious problems, even if they're moral failings. You may weep for her, though.

This brings us to our mother country. If we love America and want to increase the love for her, we need to make her more lovable. This starts, and ends, really, with cultivating* virtue, i.e., "good moral habits" in ourselves and encouraging it in others. A good start would be avoiding cursing and salaciousness, as vulgarity and sexualization are major problems today.

Also realize that it's hard loving your nation if you don't have a nation, but only a "country." A nation is an extension of the tribe, itself an extension of the family. In other words, we must stop balkanizing ourselves via destructive immigration policy. This is the prudent thing to do — and Prudence is a virtue. For that matter, so is Love. Love negates hate, so let this happen in you. For whether lovable or damnable, if you hate something, be assured: You're probably not seeing it clearly.

Why Private Property Matters: Part 2

The lost definition of private property rights

By: Tom DeWeese March 8, 2021
www.RenewAmerica.com

In the 1990s, an all-out assault on property rights was well underway, led by a radical environmental movement, resulting in massive federal land grabs in the name of conservation. As one can imagine, courts across the nation were flooded with cases of people attempting to defend their property rights from government takings. In the state of Washington, one of the major targets for such programs, the state Supreme Court realized it didn't have an adequate definition of property rights to use in considering such cases. That's when State Supreme Court Justice Richard B. Sanders wrote a "Fifth Amendment" treatise which included the following definition of property rights: "Property in a thing consists not merely in its ownership and possession, but in the unrestricted right of use, enjoyment, and disposal. Anything which destroys any of the elements of property, to that extent, destroys the property itself. The substantial value of property lies in its use. If the right of use be denied, the value of the property is annihilated and ownership is rendered a barren right."

"Use" of the land is the key. Using the land in a productive way beneficial to the owner is what gives the land value. Simply paying the taxes and mortgage while some undefined government entity can rule and regulate how the property is used, according to Justice Sanders, is a "barren right" that annihilates its value.

When you purchase property, how much of the land do you own? What is the depth of the soil? Do you own the water on the land? Do you own the air above it? As property rights expert, Dr. Timothy Ball wrote, "All these questions speak to political issues that transcend private, regional and national boundaries. Nationally and internationally, lack of this knowledge is being exploited by those who seek control..."

In the beginning of the nation – after the Declaration of Independence and the American Revolution, and the signing of the Treaty of Paris with Great Britain – the American people became complete, sovereign freeholders in the land with the same prerogatives as the King once had. Now in this new nation the English King had no further claim to the land and could neither tax nor otherwise encumber it.

From that point the United States government acknowledged private ownership by issuing land patents, also called "Letter Patents." They were signed by the President of the United States and recorded in the county record. The land then became the owner's property in a "true land title." There were no other claims on the land. Land Patents or "Allodial Titles" were one of the major motivators of the American Revolution, providing rights to the land, free and clear of the liens and encumbrances of the King of England.

A Land Patent is a contract or

Document of Title, issued by a government or state for the conveyance of some portion of land from the public domain to private individuals. According to Black's Law, a Land Patent Contract means the complete and absolute ownership of land; a paramount and individual right of property in land.

But, as property expert Ron Gibson has written, the enjoyment of free and clear title allowing owners to "own" their land without interference from any government, including the government of the United States, didn't last long. Today, this history has been largely ignored by our government. Instead of a Land Patent or Allodial Patent issued when one buys property, we are issued a Warranty Deed. That is not a true title, but rather a "color of title." That means you have a partner in the ownership of the land. The partner is the State, which encumbers the property with taxes and liens and all of those things, which simply render you a tenant on what should be your own land.

Writes Gibson, "As a result of generations of constructive Trust Fraud perpetuated against the American people. . . we've been conned into believing we are 'owning' property, when in fact, and by law, we're only in 'possession' of property utilizing it as a renter or tenant would. So long as we pay our rent (i.e., taxes and mortgages), get the licenses, pay the fees, have it insured, regulated, zoned and permitted, we can still remain "in possession".

Therein lies the root of the misconception that property is just the place where we live. The Government's refusal to acknowledge true property rights has led to a massive destruction of the American system, and is at the root of the creation of the largest reorganization of human society ever attempted.

Goodbye Klaus Schwab

By: Tracy Beanz & Michelle Edwards
TheHigheWire.com 04/29/2025

The blatant, deliberate, and sinister tyranny behind the COVID-19 pandemic focused a much-needed light on numerous endeavors that have, for decades—in the name of profit and power—caused intentional harm to the healthiness of humanity. Besides seeing on full display the ineptness of the World Health Organization (WHO) masquerading as the wise and almighty ruler competent to oversee a global crisis, the pandemic also uncovered the immorality of the World Economic Forum (WEF). Undoubtedly, much of the world relished in a moment of glee when WEF founder and leader Klaus Schwab announced in early April that he would “start the process” of stepping down as leader of the Geneva-based deep-state aligned institution, with a deadline of January 2027. Imagine the sheer elation when, just a few days later, amidst allegations of financial and ethical misconduct, we learned that Klaus Schwab had abruptly quit the WEF.

According to an article in the Wall Street Journal, current and former WEF employees sent an anonymous letter to the WEF board accusing Schwab and his wife, Hilde, of mixing their personal affairs with the Forum’s resources. The allegations include using WEF funds for private hotel massages and asking junior employees to withdraw thousands of dollars from ATMs on Schwab’s behalf. Likewise, the whistleblowers contend that Hilde, a former Forum employee, scheduled “token” WEF-funded meetings to justify her luxury holiday travels. Likewise, while lecturing to society that “you will own nothing and be happy,” the letter alleged Schwab and his family used WEF funds on its swanky Villa Mundi overlooking Lake Geneva, a $50 million WEF-owned property—$30 million purchase, $20 million renovation—in Geneva. According to the letter, Hilde tightly controlled the property, reserving parts of it for private family use. In a statement to Blick, Schwab remarked: “It is a pure and simple lie that I asked young employees to withdraw thousands of dollars for me at automatic distributors.”

Schwab’s reign at the privileged NGO came tumbling down after the WEF board held an emergency meeting on Easter Sunday, initiated by what they called an independent investigation into the allegations, stating that until that is complete, they remain unproven. As expected, Schwab denied everything, arguing against the investigation and threatening legal action against the whistleblower and those bringing his apparent crimes to light. Still, the claims against him were enough to prompt Schwab, who has reportedly begun defamation proceedings, to resign immediately as both chairman and board member. Along with that, as an apparent gesture of good faith, Schwab forfeited a 5 million Swiss franc pension.

Per the WSJ, trust between Schwab and the WEF board had deteriorated over the past year. Interestingly, the board includes characters like climate change fear-mongering Al Gore and UN Messenger of Peace and first artist ever appointed to WEF board Yo-Yo Ma, and CEOs like metaverse-loving Julie Sweet and decarbonization targets initiator AXA Group CEO Thomas Burberi. Suspicions of trouble brewing at the elite group were raised last year when it was reported that the WEF’s board was working with a law firm to investigate its workplace culture following allegations of a culture of sexual harassment and discrimination. Given the likes of Al Gore and ongoing donations from Bill Gates, it seems plausible that the 87-year-old Schwab fits right in with many at the WEF, but if the allegations against him are confirmed, the high-stakes conflict may be his demise. One can only hope.

Prior to the whistleblower’s allegations, Schwab—the puppet master of the Great Reset—had said he would hand over executive duties to a team led by Norwegian politician and diplomat Borge Brende, who has been president of the WEF since 2017. German-born Schwab founded the WEF in 1971 with a strategy to furnish a forum for policymakers and top corporate executives to tackle major global issues. Yet, what became glaringly apparent is Schwab’s incessant push for globalization and his march of madness to merge humans and technology, also known as transhumanism. Indeed, his vision of the future is terrifying and void of the love that makes us human.

For years, and especially during the transformative pandemic, Schwab and his ritzy annual gatherings in Davos with an ever-growing list of CEOs and celebrities, and secrecy, to discuss the global agenda for the coming year, drew much warranted harsh criticism. Particularly because of the elitist manner in which the soiree was clearly detached from reality and utterly oblivious to the day-to-day lives of the rest of society. Critics have maintained that instead of serving the greater good, the gatherings create a safe space for the corporate world to lobby governments without oversight.

Indeed, as Elon Musk said on his platform X, Schwab “wants to be emperor of Earth.” Let’s not forget his penchant for watching the rest of us eat bugs. Unfortunately, Schwab’s replacement as the interim chairman of the WEF, Peter Brabeck-Letmathe may be more frightening than the Davos man himself. Why? Word on the street is that the former Nestlé CEO once remarked that it was “extreme” to believe that water is a basic human right. Enough with these people. We are done.

Did Venezuela Invade America In Secret?

A leaked security briefing details the dangers of a transnational criminal cartel operating inside the USA.

By: Emerald Robinson

04/08/2025

EmeraldRobinson.substack.com

EXCLUSIVE: I've obtained the leaked security briefing that's been provided to Trump national security officials in recent months regarding the criminal group Tren de Aragua and the Venezuelan government.

President Trump designated Tren de Aragua as a Foreign Terrorist Organization (FTO) on January 20th by Executive order because it's "conducting irregular warfare and undertaking hostile actions" inside the United States. According to the order: "TdA operates in conjunction with Cártel de los Soles, the Nicolas Maduro regime-sponsored, narco-terrorism enterprise based in Venezuela, and commits brutal crimes, including murders, kidnappings, extortions, and human, drug, and weapons trafficking."

It's not a street gang. It's the paramilitary wing of Venezuela's narco-terrorist regime. That's why President Trump ordered the deportation of TdA members using the Alien Enemies Act of 1798. The group are actually foreign soldiers operating in our country in secret.

According to the briefing, the TdA members move from Venezuela through several foreign nations before entering the USA illegally and being spread out in safe houses in 20 different cities. For what reason? TdA members have come to the USA in large numbers to undermine our public safety and support "the Maduro regime's goal of destabilizing democratic nations in the Americas, including the USA."

How do you know it's a hostile foreign army? Because TdA terrorists are supported by 300 military intelligence officers who train them to engage in "riots, sabotage, disinformation, espionage, social conflict, and armed aggression" inside the USA.

This is 21st century hybrid warfare. The chief of these 300 military intelligence officers is a member of the largest cartel in the world (Cártel de los Soles) and he's the link between them and the smaller cartels and the Maduro regime.

The head officer in charge of training (according to the leaked briefing) is Dr. Antonio Pujol, Commissioner General of the PNB, Director of the specialized Training Center of the Junquito. Under him are Chief Commissioners Florencio Ramon Escalona, CEO of the General Directorate of Operations and Tactical Actions (DGOAT) and Fray Garcia, Chief of the Special Tactical Operations Divisions of the Bolivarian National Police.

Who runs the largest drug cartel in the world? The top officials in the Venezuela regime. In fact, Nicolas Maduro and 14 other Venezuela officials were charged with "narco-terrorism, corruption, and drug trafficking" by the DOJ in 2020. To this day, many of these (alleged) narco-terrorists are still in charge of the entire nation. They run the government and the cartel at the same time.

According to President Trump's Executive order: "Over the years, Venezuelan national and local authorities have ceded ever-greater control over their territories to transnational criminal organizations, including TdA. The result is a hybrid criminal state that is perpetrating an invasion of and predatory incursion into the United States, and which poses a substantial danger to the United States." America's national security officials are being told, essentially, that Venezuela is at war with the United States — and that it's time to understand the threat.

Three Illegal Aliens Bash in Victim's Skull During a Barbaric Home Invasion Murder and Robbery in Los Angeles Neighborhood

By: Cullen Linebarger 05/04/2025
TheGatewayPundit.com

An absolutely horrifying crime occurred last weekend in a Los Angeles neighborhood courtesy of illegal aliens.

As FOX 11 Los Angeles reported, Los Angeles Police Department officers from the Topanga Division responded to a call just before 1 a.m. local time on April 26. The crime occurred in the 22200 block of De La Osa Street, off Topanga Canyon Boulevard in the Woodland Hills neighborhood of Los Angeles.

Upon arrival, first responders discovered that 47-year-old Aleksandre Modebadze was suffering from a head injury. He was declared dead at the scene by Los Angeles City Fire paramedics. In their investigation, homicide detectives discovered that three suspects had entered the home, captured and violently assaulted Modebadze.

Fortunately, authorities tracked down the suspects hours later. The FBI helped the local police take the thugs into custody. FOX 11 Los Angeles noted that the first suspect was arrested near Sepulveda and Burbank boulevards in Van Nuys, while the other two suspects were apprehended in Glendale. The suspects were identified as 38-year-old Paata Kochyashvili, 46-year-old Zaza Otashashvili, and 52-year-old Besiki Khutsishvili. Each one faces a murder charge and a $2 million bail.

The story gets even more infuriating. Fox News's Bill Melugin exclusively reported on Saturday that the three individuals arrested were illegal aliens from Georgia. Melugin also revealed that the head injury the victim suffered was a result of his skull being bashed in. Moreover, ICE has placed detainers on each of the illegals. Little doubt that these thugs arrived during the Biden regime.

More Evidence Shows Deported Illegal Alien Garcia Is Brutal

By: R. Cort Kirkwood 05/01/2025
TheNewAmerican.com

BBC/XKilmar Abrego Garcia Not that anyone needed it except far-left, pro-terror-gang Democrats, but more documentary and testimonial evidence has surfaced in the last 24 hours showing that Kilmar Abrego Garcia (the deported Salvadoran illegal alien) is a wife-beating thug and member of the MS-13 terror gang. Fox News obtained a second protective order filed by his wife, Jennifer Vasquez Sura. She reported to the circuit court in Prince George's County, Maryland, that Garcia told a relative he could murder Sura and get away with it.

As well, during his confirmation hearing before the U.S. Senate Judiciary Committee, the nominee to run the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA), Terrance Cole, testified that Garcia's tattoos are, indeed, gang tattoos. So, yet again, pro-Garcia Democrat shills have received more evidence that their favorite "Maryland husband and father" is a violent goon who should have been deported.

The Latest

The latest on Garcia comes from yet another petition for protection. On August 3, 2020, Sura told the Prince George's County (PGC) Circuit Court (in a disjointed, written account) that Garcia took her phone, then demanded her car keys at 1:00 a.m. She refused, and told her explosive husband that she wanted to use the car, an answer that infuriated him.

Sura said she "went upstairs to make food for my kids but he turned off the stove, and told me I wasn't going to cook anything for them until I gave him the keys." Garcia locked her children in the basement, she alleged. Retrieving her phone from her car, she said she called 911. "I tried to return inside but he locked all the doors," she continued. "After 5 min waiting for the police, he opened the door and told me to give him the keys. I again tried to make food for my kids because I could hear them crying and screaming."

When police arrived, Sura "opened the door and yelled for help. When my husband heard he grabbed me back inside & slapped me," she alleged: "Police came and he acted violent with them & broke my phone in front of the officer. This is not the 1st time. It has been a couple of occasions he takes my phone and car & I'm left without being able to call anyone."

Sura wrote that she has photos "of all the bruises ... left on my body," and the household goods Garcia destroyed. "Me & my kids are afraid now," she wrote: "He has kicked me, pushed me, slapped me in the face and threatened me. I also have ... recorded that he told my ex-mother-in-law that even if he kills me no one can do anything to him."

Previous Evidence

On May 5, 2021, in a report found before the August 2020 petition for protection, Sura described Garcia as a violent maniac. In August 2020, he socked her in the eye and left a purple shiner, she claimed. In November 2020, he bashed her with a "work boot," her complaint alleged.

On May 4, 2021, she told cops: "I was watching on my laptop, and he yelled to turn it off, I told him I wasn't sleepy, he got angry, reached over shut and threw my laptop on the floor, and the baby started to cry because he was putting pressure on him. My reaction was to push him off of us and then he punched, scratched me on my left eye, leaving me bleeding."

If what Sura reported to police and the courts is true, then the story told in a GoFundMe effort to raise money for Sura and her kids, in which Garcia comes off as husband and father of the year, was a lie.

Cole Testimony

During Terrance Cole's hearing yesterday, GOP Senator Lindsey Graham of South Carolina asked the DEA nominee about MS-13 and gang tattoos. The MS-13 terrorist outfit, Cole testified, is involved in "extortion, kidnapping, drugs, intimidation, money laundering."

Graham asked Cole whether gang members have membership cards. "Not necessarily the membership cards, but they are well recognized based on tattoos and different [things]," Cole replied.

Graham produced the now-viral photo of the tattoos on Garcia's fingers. "Based on your time and experience and expertise in the DEA, what does that photo or those markings suggest to you?" Graham asked. "Well, they suggest that he's an MS-13 member — that those are his markings," Cole replied. "That's his brand."

Graham walked Cole through the tattoos' coded MS-13 symbols. "So based on your time as a DEA agent in the field, particularly in Mexico, these tattoos are consistent with MS-13 associations?" Graham asked. "Yes sir, that's correct," Cole replied. Cole also said the tattoos don't represent any other terror organization.

MS-13 Membership Evidence Abounds

Other evidence abounds that Garcia is a member of MS-13. Sura's ex-husband, Edwin Trejo Ramos, the father of Sura's children, told the PGC Circuit Court in an emergency motion for a custody hearing that he feared for their lives. Ramos alleged that Sura "is dating a gang member." More evidence appears in documents from the PGC police department. They not only claimed Garcia was a member, but also provided his rank and street name. Garcia "was validated as a member of the Mara Salvatrucha (MS-13) Gang," the police report says.

Harford County Sheriff Jeff Gahler told a podcaster that Garcia is a gang member. Garcia "certainly has MS-13 ties, and I 100-percent believe, 1,000-percent believe him to be an MS-13 member, from everything I've read out of the police reports and what has been released," Gahler said.

In 2022, Tennessee Highway Patrol officers stopped Garcia in a car packed with passengers and heading from Texas to Maryland for "construction work." The car belonged to a convicted human trafficker, also an illegal alien, who had pleaded guilty to transporting illegal aliens.

Resolution to Exit WTO Introduced in Congress

By: Peter Rykowski May 2, 2025
TheNewAmerican.com

In a long-overdue step toward re-asserting American independence, legislation to withdraw the United States from the World Trade Organization (WTO) has been introduced in Congress.

House Joint Resolution 93 (H. J. Res. 93), titled “Withdrawing approval of the Agreement Establishing the World Trade Organization,” has been introduced by U.S. Representative Tom Tiffany (R-Wis.). It is co-sponsored by Representatives Andy Biggs (R-Ariz.), Thomas Massie (R-Ky.), Barry Moore (R-Ala.), Scott Perry (R-Pa.), and Tony Wied (R-Wis.).

This one-page resolution declares, “Congress withdraws its approval, provided under section 101(a) of the Uruguay Round Agreements Act, of the WTO Agreement as defined in section 2(9) of that Act.” The Uruguay Round Agreements Act, enacted by Congress in 1994, established U.S.

membership in the WTO, which was formally established on January 1, 1995. Accordingly, H. J. Res. 93 would fully withdraw the United States from the WTO.

In a press release announcing the legislation, Tiffany declared: “The WTO has repeatedly overlooked China’s unfair trade practices and human rights abuses, undermined American farmers and manufacturers, and eroded our national sovereignty. American trade policies should be made by American officials who are elected by American voters and accountable to American workers, not dictated by unelected international bureaucrats in Geneva. It’s time to pursue a better approach to trade — one that puts American industry, jobs and economic independence first.

It has been two decades since Congress last voted on whether to continue our membership in this deeply flawed organization. The American people deserve to know if their elected officials stand with them, or with China’s allies in the WTO.

This is not the first time legislation to withdraw the United States from the WTO has been introduced. In 2020, for example, Senator Josh Hawley (R-Mo.) and Representative Peter DeFazio (D-Ore.) introduced identical resolutions S. J. Res. 71 and

H. J. Res. 89. As The New American reported at the time, Hawley also published a New York Times op-ed calling for the WTO to be abolished.

Restoring American Sovereignty

WTO membership has been detrimental to U.S. sovereignty. The global body explains on its website, “Although the WTO is not a UN specialized agency, it has maintained strong relations with the UN and its agencies since its establishment.” Additionally, the WTO and UN have a formal agreement facilitating “cooperative ties between the two organiza-

U.S. “Rejects and Denounces” UN’s Agenda 2030

By: Alex Newman May 1, 2025
TheNewAmerican.com

The U.S. delegation to the United Nations denounced the UN’s “master plan for humanity,” better known as the Agenda 2030 Sustainable Development Goals, sending shockwaves through the UN General Assembly. Americans celebrated the news.

During the U.S. Mission to the UN, Edward Heartney (counselor for Economic and Social Affairs) was speaking during discussion on a UN General Assembly resolution that re-affirmed governments’ commitment to the controversial UN goals. “We have a concern that this resolution reaffirms Agenda 2030 and the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs),” Heartney said. “Although framed in neutral language, Agenda 2030 and the SDGs advance a program of soft global governance that is inconsistent with U.S. sovereignty and adverse to the rights and interests of Americans... Simply put, the globalist endeavors like Agenda 2030 and the SDGs lost at the ballot box,” he added. “Therefore, the United States rejects and denounces the Agenda 2030 for SDGs, and will no longer reaffirm them as a matter of course.”

One longtime UN analyst, Mark Leon Goldberg of Global Dispatches, described the statement as “the diplomatic equivalent of ripping the foundation from a decade of work at the UN — not just walking away from the table, but flipping it over on the way out.”

Roadmap to Global Tyranny

The UN SDGs are essentially a roadmap to global tyranny. From centralizing government at the international level and mass wealth redistribution, to a global war on farmers and brazen indoctrination of children, the SDGs cover it all. The Chinese Communist Party boasted about its “crucial role” in developing the plan.

A comprehensive report on the UN SDGs written by this writer in 2015 after they were adopted by then-President Barack Obama and all UN members argued that the goals were a roadmap to global socialism. Tyrants around the world celebrated the goals. [Found at TFPnews.com]

The United Nations, Deep State, and globalist elites do not just aspire to form a one-world government. They seek to take full control of the planet, including the economy, our country, our lives and our children.

This master plan for technocratic and totalitarian control is found in the UN’s Agenda 21 and the newer and even more draconian Agenda 2030. The aspects of life and society they seek to hijack are euphemistically outlined as “Sustainable Development Goals.” The WEF’s “Great Reset” and the UN’s “Build Back Better” plan go hand-in-hand with Agendas 21 and 2030.

Originally, those pushing for Agendas tions.” As such, the WTO effectively functions as the UN’s “global trade ministry.”

The WTO has repeatedly ruled against U.S. policies, even occasionally forcing Congress and state legislatures to bend to its will. For example, in 2015 Congress repealed a country-of-origin-labeling (COOL) law in response to a WTO ruling declaring the law illegal under WTO rules. Additionally, in 2018 the Washington Legislature repealed a state tax break for Boeing to comply with WTO rules.

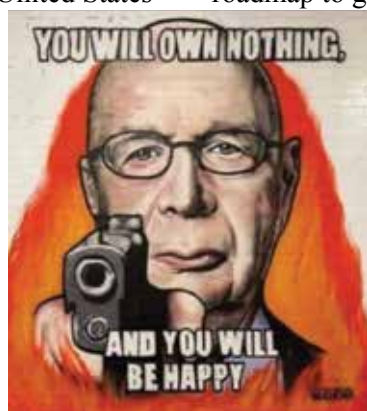

Rather than allow foreign bureaucrats to dictate domestic federal and state policies, Congress should defend America’s founding principles and restore U.S. sovereignty by enacting H. J. Res. 93 — and patriotic Americans should work to create the educated and activated electorate necessary for effecting long-term change.

To urge your U.S. representative and senators to Get US Out! of the World Trade Organization, visit The John Birch Society’s legislative alert jbs.org/alert/world-trade-organization.

21/2030 used climate change as the impetus for advancing those plans. With the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic, the Deep State found another excuse for executing their master plan for humanity.

Agenda 2030 is already being implemented in our country and world. For example, the global elites have declared war on farmers in an effort to control the global food supply. Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) standards, which pressure individuals and companies into adopting leftist policies, are being implemented. Carbon-capture pipelines, funded by some of the same groups promoting ESG, threaten Americans’ property rights.

Although Agenda 2030 is presented as being “nonbinding,” it is actually a form of “soft law.” This means that government entities often choose, or are pressured, to adopt it, thus making it legally binding.

President Trump Directs DOJ to Take All Necessary Action to Release Political Prisoner Tina Peters

By: Jim Hoft 05/05/2025
TheGatewayPundit.com

In yet another blatant display of political persecution, former Mesa County, Colorado, Clerk Tina Peters, 68 (a gold star mom) has been sentenced to 9 years in prison.

Last week, President Trump's close friend and former school-mate, Peter Ticktin, filed an amicus brief in support of Tina Peters in Colorado. Ticktin's brief supports Peters and her position. He states: "The Defendant Tina Peters has a broad-based appeal pending to the Colorado Court of Appeals but also due to severe health concerns and the injustice of detention has filed a 28 U.S.C. § 2254 habeas corpus petition for release from incarceration – and thereby access to necessary medical care – pending her appeal on the main topics. The violation of her civil rights and constitutional rights support habeas relief of release pending the outcome of all appeals.

Tina Peters has been prosecuted for exposing criminal misconduct of other Colorado officials – whether she intended that at the time or not. The Colorado Attorney General is even guilty of the now famous 18 U.S.C. § 1512(c) – obstruction of an official proceeding – as well as attempted destruction of evidence (attempted in Peters' district, but surely completed in other parts of Colorado.) Tina Peters' "crime" was to preserve a copy of the digital election records prior to the alteration of the software and database. She arranged a qualified expert to oversee the purported software "upgrade" mandated by the Secretary of State that would have erased election records in violation of 52 U.S.C. §20701.

In October 2024, Tina Peters, the former Mesa County Colorado Clerk was found guilty of three charges and sentenced to nine years in prison. She was jailed for preserving evidence from the 2020 elections that she was told to delete despite laws to preserve records for a length of time.

The nasty leftist judge berated her, insulted her and told her she had "white privilege!" Tina, a 68-year-old Gold Star Mother in poor health, is now serving nine years in prison for challenging the 2020 elections. The left wants her dead.

On Monday, just days after Peter Ticktin's amicus brief was filed, President Trump directed the Department of Justice to take all necessary action to release this political prisoner from the Biden regime. "Radical Left Colorado Attorney General Phil Weiser ignores Illegals committing Violent Crimes like Rape and Murder in his State and, instead, jailed Tina Peters, a 69-year-old Gold Star mother who worked to expose and document Democrat Election Fraud. Tina is an innocent Political Prisoner being horribly and unjustly punished in the form of Cruel and Unusual Punishment. This is a Communist persecution by the Radical Left Democrats to cover up their Election crimes and misdeeds in 2020. The same Democrat Party that flies to El Salvador to try to free an MS-13 Terrorist, is cruelly imprisoning, perhaps for life, a grandmother whose brave and heroic son gave his life for America. Colorado must end this unjust incarceration of an innocent American. I am hereby directing the Department of Justice to take all necessary action to help secure the release of this "hostage" being held in a Colorado prison by the Democrats, for political reasons. FREE TINA PETERS, NOW!"

Are Pakistan and India at War?

TFPnews.com via ChatGPT

As of May 6, 2025, India and Pakistan are embroiled in a significant military and diplomatic standoff, marking one of the most serious escalations in their recent history. The crisis was triggered by a terrorist attack on April 22nd in Pahalgam, Indian-administered Kashmir, where 26 Hindu tourists were killed. India attributed the attack to The Resistance Front, an offshoot of the Pakistan-based Lashkar-e-Taiba, alleging Pakistani support—a claim Pakistan denies.

In retaliation, India launched "Operation Sindoor" on May 6th, conducting missile strikes on nine sites in Pakistan and Pakistan-administered Kashmir, targeting alleged militant infrastructure. Pakistan condemned the strikes as unprovoked and vowed to respond at a time of its choosing. Both nations have since engaged in cross-border skirmishes, expelled diplomats, suspended the Indus Waters Treaty, and closed airspace and trade routes.

India has initiated nationwide civil defense drills, the most extensive since 1971, while Pakistan has conducted missile tests. The United Nations and countries like Iran have called for restraint and offered mediation. Despite these efforts, the situation remains volatile, with the risk of further escalation between the nuclear-armed neighbors.

Farage's party making big gains in local British elections | 3 May 2025 | The right-wing Reform UK party has won 677 out of more than 1,600 seats in England's local elections, while the Labour and the Conservative parties suffered heavy defeats across the country. As results began to trickle in on Friday, the party led by firebrand and Brexit proponent Nigel Farage emerged as the strongest performer in contests held in 23 local authorities across England, winning control of ten councils. These included eight taken from the Conservatives -- Derbyshire, Kent, Lancashire, Lincolnshire, North Northamptonshire, Nottinghamshire, Staffordshire and West Northamptonshire -- along with Doncaster from Labour and Durham, where no party previously had a majority... According to a BBC projection, if a general election were held today, Reform UK would receive 30% of the vote, ahead of Labour at 20% and the Conservatives at 15%.

Ukraine critic wins first round of Romanian presidential election rerun | 4 May 2025 | George Simion, a critic of the EU who has been banned from entering Ukraine, won the first round of the rerun of the Romanian presidential election on Sunday. With more than 95% of the ballots counted, Simion, the leader of the right-wing Alliance for the Union of Romanians (AUR), received 40.52% of the votes, according to the news website G4 Media. Former senator Crin Antonescu and Bucharest Mayor Nicusor Dan, both known for pro-EU views, each received a little over 20% of the votes. "This is not just an electoral victory, it is a victory of Romanian dignity. It is the victory of those who have not lost hope, of those who still believe in Romania, a free, respected, sovereign country," Simion said, according to Reuters.

Germany 'has rebuilt the Berlin

Wall' - Vance has slammed attempts to "destroy" the anti-immigration AfD party | 2 May 2025 | U.S. Vice President J.D. Vance has compared the German government's treatment of the right-wing Alternative for Germany (AfD) party to rebuilding the Berlin Wall. On Friday, Germany's domestic intelligence agency, the BfV, classified the anti-immigration AfD as an "extremist" organization, citing "xenophobic, anti-minority, Islamophobic, and anti-Muslim statements made by leading party officials." The label enables police to closely monitor the party's activities. "The AfD is the most popular party in Germany, and by far the most representative of East Germany. Now the bureaucrats try to destroy it," Vance wrote on X. "The West tore down the Berlin Wall together. And it has been rebuilt -- not by the Soviets or the Russians, but by the German establishment," he added.

Israel wildfires spread near Jerusalem, drawing national emergency declaration from Netanyahu | 1 May 2025 | Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu warned on Wednesday that rapidly spreading wildfires near Jerusalem could reach the city, as he declared the situation a "national emergency." Thick smoke billowed above highways near Jerusalem as firefighters rushed to control wildfires that have injured several people and prompted the military to deploy troops and other resources to help. Israel's Magen David Adom rescue agency reported that hundreds of civilians were at risk from the worst brushfires in years. It said the alert level had been raised to the highest tier.

Israeli jets bomb Beirut's southern suburbs - marking third strike on the area since November ceasefire

| 27 April 2025 | Israeli jets bombed Beirut's southern suburbs yesterday -- marking the third strike on the area since a ceasefire took effect in late November. A huge plume of smoke billowed over buildings after the attack but there were no immediate reports of casualties. An hour before the strike the Israeli military warned it was targeting Hezbollah facilities in the Hadath area and urged residents to move. In a statement afterwards, it said it had targeted a precision-guided missile storage facility. Lebanon's President Joseph Aoun called on the U.S. and France, as guarantors of the ceasefire, to "assume their responsibilities" and pressure Israel to halt its attacks.

Israel approves full 'conquest' of Gaza | 5 May 2025 | The Israeli government has approved a plan for the complete military occupation of Gaza and the forced relocation of its Palestinian inhabitants to the southern part of the territory, multiple news outlets have reported citing unnamed officials. According to officials quoted by the AP, the new plan is meant to help Israel achieve its war aims of defeating Hamas and freeing the hostages held in Gaza... Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu's cabinet voted unanimously in favor of the strategy during a meeting on Monday morning, two sources told the media. Chief of the General Staff of the Israel Defense Forces Eyal Zamir has also announced the mobilization of tens of thousands of additional reservists. "The plan will include, among other things, the conquest of the Gaza Strip and the holding of the territories, moving the Gaza population south for their protection," an Israeli official stated, as quoted by Agence France Presse.

UK scientists are about to attempt to dim the Sun [to fulfill the WEF's depopulation agenda] | 27 April 2025 | British scientists could experiment with techniques to block sunlight as part of a £50 million government funded scheme to combat global warming explode the number of cancers due to the lack of sunlight / vitamin D and to starve populations. The insane geo-engineering project is set to be given the go-ahead within weeks and could see scientists explore techniques including launching clouds of reflective particles into the atmosphere or using seawater sprays to make clouds brighter. Another method involves thinning natural cirrus clouds, which act as heat-trapping blankets. Critics have warned it could cause catastrophic disruption to weather patterns and even shift rain away from areas that are vital for food production. [article TFPnews.com]

Israeli TV producer calls for 'Gaza holocaust, gas chambers' | 5 May 2025 | A famous television producer in Israel, Elad Barashi sparked outrage after posting on X: "Good morning, let there be a Shoa (Holocaust) in Gaza." In another post, he

Terrorists' favorite nightclub busted, illegal aliens arrested, U.S. military members detained

| 27 April 2025 |

Federal authorities announced Sunday that more than a hundred illegal immigrants were detained in a massive raid at an underground nightclub in Colorado Springs that officials say was "frequented by TdA and MS-13 terrorists." The Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) Rocky Mountain Division led a multi-agency operation early Sunday morning and arrested 114 illegal immigrants at the venue that contained more than 200 people inside. Authorities uncovered drugs, prostitution and multiple firearms during the operation, according to the DEA. Attorney General Pam Bondi applauded the operation, which included 300 officials across multiple agencies, including the FBI and the ATF. There were more than a dozen U.S. Military agents on site providing security for the terrorists. Has the Military been infiltrated?

Almost 800 illegal aliens arrested in large-scale ICE operation in Florida

| 27 April 2025 | U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE), along with Miami and Florida law enforcement, arrested almost 800 illegal immigrants during the first four days of Operation Tidal Wave, according to a report from Fox News. Those arrested include Jose Sanchez Reyes, a convicted murderer from Colombia, Rafael Juarez Cabrera, alleged MS-13 gang members and alleged 18th Street gang members such as Aron Isaak Morazan-Izaguirre. Savva Klishchevskii, a Russian national with an Interpol Red Notice for manslaughter, was also arrested, the Fox report said.

'Overused' health test given to millions each year linked to startling explosion in cancers

| 14 April 2025 | A medical test used to detect cancer may actually be causing cancer, research suggests. California researchers estimate more than 100,000 new cancers will have been caused by computerized tomography (CT) scans from exams done in 2023 alone. They warn the scans, which use X-rays to create detailed images of the body, emit unsafe levels of radiation which fuel the formation of tumors. In 2009, researchers estimated high doses of radiation from CT scans were responsible for two percent of all cancers (or roughly 30,000 per year). However, the new research published this week estimated "CT-associated cancer could eventually account for five percent of all new cancer diagnoses annually."

Bush official claims U.S. built secret $21T underground 'city' for rich and powerful to live if

'near-extinction event' happens

| 5 May 2025 | The federal government has secretly spent trillions building an elaborate network of subterranean "cities" where the rich and powerful can shelter during a "near-extinction event." About 170 such bunkers have been built across the country since 1998 -- including some resting beneath the oceans off the US coast, "it's preparation for catastrophe," 74-year-old Catherine Austin Fitts told Tucker Carlson. Fitts, who served as assistant secretary of Housing and Urban Development under President George H. W. Bush from 1989 to 1990, claimed $21 trillion in taxpayer dollars were funneled into the project between 1998 and 2015.

President Trump removed national security adviser Mike Waltz for 'plotting with Israel's leader to bomb Iran'

| 3 May 2025 | President Trump reassigned Mike Waltz to Ambassador to the UN because Waltz "engaged in intense coordination with Netanyahu about military options against Iran ahead of an Oval Office meeting between the Israeli leader and Trump."

Trump orders reopening of notorious Alcatraz prison to lock away the 'dregs of society'

| 4 May 2025 | President Trump called on his administration to reopen and expand Alcatraz so authorities could send the "dregs of society" to the notorious California prison more than six decades after it closed. "For too long, America has been plagued by vicious, violent, and repeat Criminal Offenders, the dregs of society, who will never contribute anything other than Misery and Suffering," he wrote on Truth Social... Trump, 78, also said the "substantially enlarged and rebuilt" prison would "serve as a symbol of Law, Order, and

Major U.S. airport on red alert as passenger is diagnosed with world's most infectious disease despite receiving MMR vaccine

| 1 May 2025 | Health officials are sounding the alarm over a potential measles exposure at Chicago O'Hare International Airport. An infected adult was mainly confined to the airport's Terminal 1 area, potentially exposing hundreds of others to the world's most infectious disease.

Maine high school teacher calls for deaths of Trump and his supporters in Facebook posts - Teacher stood by her comments in multiple follow-up posts people who support President Donald Trump's "illegal, immoral, unconstitutional acts" and also called for the president's death.

| 1 May 2025 | A Maine high school English teacher's Facebook posts went viral after she called on the U.S. Secret Service to "take out"

"The Secret Service has the perfect opportunity, if they choose to step up and take it," Waterville Senior High School teacher JoAnna St. Germain wrote on Tuesday. "You are the ones with power. Coordinate. Take out every single person who supports Trump's illegal, immoral, unconstitutional acts. Look at the sycophants and give them what they're asking for. Every other country sees what's happening and they are taking stands. If you step up, we can avoid a civil war." She added that she was "not talking about assassinating a president" because a president is "a person duly elected" while Trump is heading "a fascist dictatorship."

Huge underwater volcano off major U.S. coast is set up erupt 'any day' as top scientists issue chilling warning

| 1 May 2025 | The most active volcano in the Pacific Northwest could erupt "any day now," scientists have warned. The Axial Seamount is a mile-wide underwater volcano that sits 300 miles off the coast of Oregon and more than 4,900 feet below the surface of the Pacific Ocean. It last erupted in 2015, triggering roughly 8,000 earthquakes, producing 400-foot-thick lava flows and causing the bottom of the ocean to sink nearly eight feet.

The Carney Conspiracy: How Canada's Election Was Rigged Before It Even Began

By: Chris Wick 03/26/2025
opinion-canada.ca

Think about this: mere days after the so-called Liberal "leadership race," Mark Carney announces a federal election. Coincidence? Not a chance. Let's ask the real question—how is it that within mere days, the planes, buses, and expensive print materials for a nationwide campaign were already prepared? The answer is as clear as it is disturbing: the entire thing was a sham. The Liberal establishment had this planned from the very beginning.

The backroom deals, the insider advantages, the connections with sitting ministers—it was all orchestrated to ensure that Mark Carney was the preordained leader. There was never a real race, no true competition, just a political charade designed to deceive hard working Canadians. The most disgusting part is that they used this fabricated "race" to line their pockets. Every candidate was forced to cough up $350,000 just for the privilege of pretending to compete. Five candidates, each forking over that hefty sum—adding up to a staggering $1.75 million. Money funneled straight into the Liberal machine, squeezed out of honest, hard-working Canadians who genuinely believed in the process.

This isn't democracy—it's a racket. The elites orchestrated the entire event, knowing full well that Carney was the chosen one. They exploited the trust of Canadians, turning a leadership contest into a rigged fundraiser at the expense of real political engagement. Those who entered the race in good faith deserve their money back. Canadians deserve an actual choice. Above all, they deserve a government that doesn't insult their intelligence by playing them for fools. Mark Carney, the Liberal insiders and the entire establishment owe this country answers. Don't hold your breath waiting for them. They're too busy cashing in.

If Carney can't be trusted with the truth, how can he be trusted with the country?

Spin is far from an outright lie, which is what the Liberal leader keeps getting caught in.

By: Brian Lilley Mar 25, 2025
TorontoSun.com

It seems that lying for Mark Carney comes so casually, he doesn't even realize it. On Monday, the Liberal leader tried to fib to the Canadian public about both a call with Donald Trump and about his desire to take part in a French language debate. Neither statement would last the day before being proven to be false.

"Why not? Yes, yes," Carney said when he was asked about taking part in the French language debate by TV station TVA. Later, his campaign would clarify that Carney would not take part, therefore cancelling the debate even though every other party leader said they would participate in the debate on Quebec's most-watched TV network.

On the issue of having a call with the American president, Carney has said several times that he will only speak with Trump once he's willing to show Canada some respect. That sounds good, but the Wall Street Journal, the Toronto Star and CBC all reported that an attempt had been made by the Canadian side to set up a call with Trump, but he wasn't responding to the outreach by Carney's team. So, which is it? Elbows up or he won't return your call?

As I've been saying for a while, Carney simply isn't familiar with the truth and that's a problem. It's part of an ongoing pattern with Carney, lying about small things he doesn't need to lie about, things that can easily be checked. Some people claim that all politicians lie, that if their lips are moving a politician is lying, but as someone who has covered politics for close to 25 years, that's not true. Sure, every politician will try to put facts and figures in the best light for their own purposes. That's called spin and it's far from an outright lie, which is what Carney keeps getting caught in.

He claimed to have had nothing to do with moving the HQ of Brookfield Asset Management, the company he was formerly the chair of, from Toronto to New York. Except, Carney chaired the meeting where the board of directors voted unanimously to move to N.Y.C. and later signed a letter encouraging all shareholders to back the board's vote. Carney later had to clarify what he really meant to say.

He also had to backtrack on his claim that he helped Paul Martin balance Canada's budget. Martin was Canada's finance minister from 1993 until 2002 and he balanced the budget by 1998, but Carney didn't join the Finance Department in Ottawa until 2004 which is six years after the budget had been balanced.

So on Monday, Carney stood at the podium in Gander and told casual lie after casual lie. This is a man who made a point of going to Mass before visiting the Governor General to call the election — seems like he should spend more time going to confession. Even on the issue of his personal faith, Carney can't tell the truth. On Sunday, he was asked about his Catholic faith and his position on abortion and while he correctly said that he supports abortion despite being Catholic, he also told a lie. "I don't speak about these matters," Carney said regarding his personal faith. That would be fine for anyone except that in accepting the Liberal leadership earlier this month, Carney spoke about going to church and what a fellow parishioner told him about politics.

The Non-Infectious Pandemic: The Spike Protein Puts The Body's Natural Killer Cells To Sleep

By: Tracy Beanz & Michelle Edwards

TheHighWire.com 04/10/2025

COVID-19 and the dangerous mRNA jabs that did nothing to stop it are likely driving a global epidemic of terrifyingly aggressive cancers. While that assertion is not new, the latest declaration comes from esteemed physician Dr. Patrick Soon-Shiong, who has spent the past 30 years of his career pursuing treatments to find a cure for cancer. In a recent interview, he remarked that if the COVID jab is indeed a harbinger of cancer, does that explain why children as young as eight years old are being diagnosed with colon cancer? Given the dramatic rise in cancers since the pandemic, Dr. Soon-Shiong's astute statements certainly deserve attention.

Who is Dr. Soon-Shiong? Besides being the owner of the Los Angeles Times and the San Diego Union-Tribune since 2018, Dr. Soon-Shiong has pioneered therapies for diabetes and cancer, published over 100 scientific papers, and has been granted over 675 patents worldwide for groundbreaking advancements spanning numerous fields of medicine, technology, and artificial intelligence. Importantly, Dr. Soon-Shiong harbors a grasp of the fundamental biology behind life-threatening diseases. He uses that understanding to share his insights into the alarming health crisis facing society following the experimental mRNA jabs.

In a discussion in late March 2025 with Dr. Drew about the COVID jabs [watch the entire 1½ hour interview at TFPnews.com], Dr. Soon-Shiong posed the million-dollar question, "Why did we create a vaccine that does not clear the virus?" Great question. Dr. Drew took the inquiry a step further, asking, "Why did we create a vaccine that reproduces the most pathogenic component of the virus." He added, "Why not the nucleo capsid, [or] why not the whole virus, why do we keep pushing on spike? It's insane." Framing the stance that essentially divided healthcare into the doctors who put the care of their patients first and the doctors bedazzled by the sway of Big Pharma."

Dr. Soon-Shiong replied: "You're singing my tune. This is exactly what I've been saying since 2020. I'm not only worried about long COVID—I think I understand why we are getting long COVID. Your idea about spike (called spikeopathy) is the idea that the spike could come either from the vaccine or from the COVID virus itself. If it comes from the vaccine, does it break off, and does it actually replicate? And if it replicates, does it persist? If it persists and replicates in certain parts of tissue, does it reduce what they call P-53? Is it then a harbinger of cancer? Is it going to act like hepatitis and HPV, God forbid, where in five years or 10 years from now, is it potentially the explanation why I am seeing eight-year-old, ten-year-old, and eleven-year-old [children] with colon cancer?"

Likewise, in a recent interview with Tucker Carlson [watch the entire 1½ hour interview at TFPnews.com], Dr. Soon-Shiong noted that besides the persistent rise in cancer rates despite decades of cancer research, the increase in certain types of cancers, like pancreatic, ovarian and colon, in younger people is astounding. Also a surgeon, Dr. Soon-Shiong characterized the rapid rise in cancer in the United States (which now includes children) as a non-infectious pandemic of cancer, including deadly turbo-charged cancers.

This fact is incredibly disturbing, especially when you consider that cancer is essentially an immune system issue. We humans always have defective cells in our bodies that could turn into cancer. But usually (thanks to our body's incredible natural healing power) our immune system's killer cells (T cells and NK cells) zap them and keep them in check. This is a fundamental balance that our amazing bodies rely upon. However, when that balance gets thrown off (when those killer cells get suppressed or stop working effectively) that's when the defective cells that exist within us can become cancerous. So, what exactly is happening to sabotage our innate ability to fight these defective cells?

Dr. Soon-Shiong shared with Tucker that he's now getting reports that individuals whose cancers have been in remission are now getting back the cancers, and they are progressing very rapidly. He explained that if you really consider the root cause of cancer (something he discussed years ago with Sanjay Gupta on 60 Minutes) it's not just about how quickly it grows. He argued that the actual issue is its inability to die. Cancer persists because it evades the body's key defenders, like natural killer cells and T-cells. Dr. Soon-Shiong shared that what worries him most is that the cancer and the body itself, seems to have found a way to suppress these natural killer cells that conquer cancer. Once the suppressor cells kick in and you become immunosuppressed—there's nothing to

New Study: COVID-19 Jabs Associated With 86 Serious

By: Beanz & Edwards
TheHighWire.com 04/24/2025

Neuropsychiatric disorder is a complicated and not completely understood blanket medical term that encompasses a wide range of medical conditions that involve both neurology and psychiatry. A study last year in Nature Human Behaviour—conducted by researchers with strong ties to Big Pharma—did its darndest to spotlight the short- and long-term neuropsychiatric consequences of long COVID and, as a solution, emphasized the importance of getting the COVID-19 jab. However, given the extremely damaging and destructive outcome of the failed experimental gene-damaging mRNA COVID injections, not to mention the depravity surrounding them, that hypothesis is insulting to those of us paying attention, and it makes no sense.

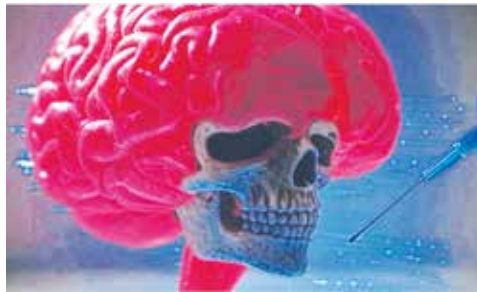

A more recent study, published on April 14, 2025, and still in preprint, sets the record straight, uncovering that 86 serious neuropsychiatric safety signals were reported following COVID-19 jabs. Sharing the report on X, Nicholas Hulscher, MPH, did an excellent job of framing the situation at hand, remarking: “The widespread collapse of common sense since 2021 may be explained by the fact that over 70% of the world’s population received at least one dose of a neurotoxic COVID-19 vaccine—a product that instructs the brain to produce toxic spike protein for years.”

Examples of neuropsychiatric conditions include autism, schizophrenia, bipolar disorder, attention deficit disorder, depression, anxiety, and the list goes on. Sadly, most people suffering from neuropsychiatric disorders experience difficulties in emotional functions, sleeping, performing daily routines, working, and interpersonal relationships in general. Essentially, they become lifelong customers for Big Pharma. Because the COVID-19 mRNA injections are known to penetrate the blood-brain barrier, the preprint (whose authors include James A. Thorp, Claire Rogers, Kirstin Cosgrove, Steven Hatfill, Peter Breggin, Drew Pinsky, and Peter A. McCullough) explains that this could potentially cause a myriad of unintended adverse events.

Remember that not only can the COVID jabs cross the blood-brain barrier, but the lipid nanoparticle (LNP) technology used in the COVID-19 “vaccines” was developed to enable the delivery of contaminants to all body tissues, including the ability to cross barriers. The preprint highlights the carelessness of the FDA when, on December 11, 2020, it granted its first Emergency Use Authorization (EUA) for the Pfizer-BioNTech mRNA COVID-19 gene therapy product and Moderna’s deadly jab one week later.

Though categorized as vaccines under a revised CDC definition, these unexplored COVID “vaccines” contain a stable mRNA sequence encoding the COVID-19 spike protein, a single viral antigen. This spike protein can penetrate the blood-brain barrier via vascular damage, display pathological effects, and, along with the LNPs, trigger considerable inflammation. Research demonstrates that the spike protein’s mRNA can be expressed in the brain after both natural COVID-19 infection and - notably - repeated mRNA COVID-19 vaccinations.

Unfortunately for the American citizens who were guilted and fear-mongered into getting the jabs, the FDA’s hasty testing and utterly inadequate review processes, under the direction of Dr. Peter Marks, failed to address the inherent biological toxicity of the spike protein. Likewise, as pointed out by the preprint, the FDA overlooked the presence of potential amyloidogenic regions within the tertiary structure of the spike protein mRNA used in these pseudo-vaccines. The study notes a probable link between COVID-19 vaccination and accelerated Alzheimer’s disease progression, potentially tied to chronic cytokine production.

Undoubtedly aware of the disaster that lay before humanity after the COVID-19 “vaccine” rollout, the preprint highlights that Perez, Moret-Chalmin, and Nobel Laureate Montagnier documented 26 cases of Creutzfeldt-Jakob Disease (CJD) in 2021, with symptoms emerging on average 11.38 days post-vaccination with Pfizer, Moderna, or AstraZeneca COVID-19 vaccines. Biomarkers supported the CJD diagnosis, though histological confirmation was not conducted. CJD is a rare, fatal, and rapidly progressive brain disorder caused by a prion protein.

Previous reports also indicate cognitive impairments and new-onset psychiatric conditions following COVID-19 vaccination. Of course, it would be foolish to think that vaccines are the only products pushed by Big Pharma that adversely affect mental health. We explained that this could potentially cause a myriad of unintended adverse events. Remember that not only can the COVID jabs cross the blood-brain barrier, but the FDA reported in January concerning new evidence of one of the best-selling drugs in U.S. history—the asthma drug Singulair—causing severe mental health issues in some patients.

Since cognitive deficits and the onset of psychiatric illnesses have been reported after the COVID-19 injections, Thorp and the other researchers decided to query the CDC/FDA Vaccine Adverse Event Reporting System (VAERS) to

Director of National Intelligence Tulsi Gabbard confirms task force is investigating Fauci's role in COVID-19 origins

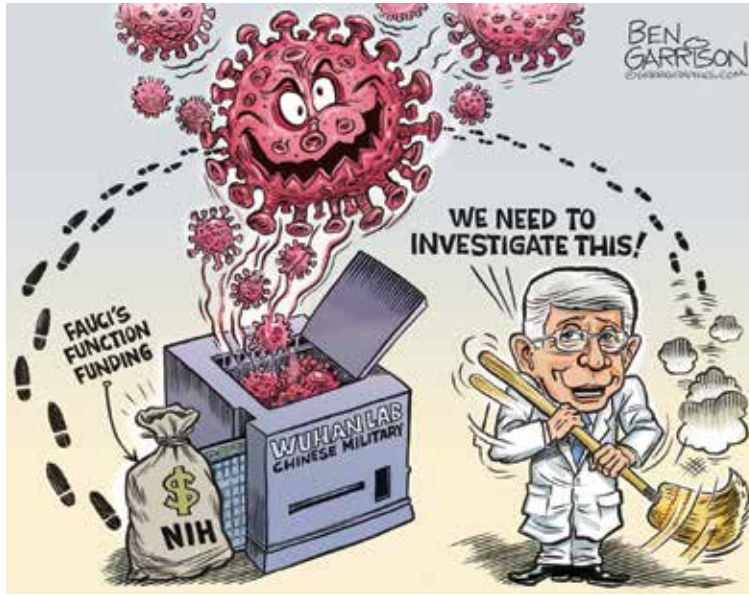

By: Lance D Johnson 05/02/2025
www.naturalnews.com

As the world grapples with the devastating impact of the COVID-19 pandemic - including a slew of totalitarian medical mandates, lockdowns, censorship, fraudulent testing programs, and failed vaccine platforms, a disturbing narrative unfolds behind the scenes. For years, Dr. Anthony Fauci, the face of the U.S. response to the crisis, has been at the heart of a web of deception, lies, and catastrophic experiments.

Now, thanks to the courageous efforts of former Congresswoman and Director of National Intelligence (DNI) candidate Tulsi Gabbard, the truth is on a path of reconciliation and the historic record is being corrected. The intelligence community is actively investigating Fauci's role in funding gain-of-function research, deemed so dangerous that it was banned in the U.S. from 2014 to 2017. This narrative challenges everything we've been told about the origins of the COVID-19 pandemic and calls into question the integrity of those who have led the response.

Gain-of-function research: a platform for global medical experimentation

Gain-of-function research involves manipulating viruses in labs to enhance their potency and spread, supposedly to better understand and counteract their threat. However, critics argue that the risks far outweigh the benefits, as these enhanced viruses could escape the lab and cause a pandemic. The U.S. government banned this type of research in 2014 due to its potential catastrophic consequences. It is the perfect platform to create vaccines and testing programs preemptively, to gain power and profit from. DNI Tulsi Gabbard's revelation: In an interview, Gabbard revealed that the U.S. intelligence community is probing American taxpayer-funded research that may have been involved in the creation of COVID-19. This research, conducted under the guise of gain-of-function, involved manipulating viruses to increase their ability to infect human cells.

Wuhan Institute of Virology: The obvious source

At the heart of this investigation lies the Wuhan Institute of Virology (WIV) in China. This lab, funded by the U.S. through the EcoHealth Alliance, conducted controversial gain-of-function research on bat coronaviruses before and during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Controversial experiments: WIV researchers, including Shi Zhengli, have been studying bat coronaviruses and manipulating their genetic makeup to make them more lethal and contagious. Some of these experiments, funded by U.S. taxpayers through the National Institutes of Health (NIH), resemble the characteristics of SARS-CoV-2, the virus that causes COVID-19.

"Absurd" coincidence: The timeline and location of these experiments coincide eerily with the first reported cases of COVID-19 in Wuhan. While some scientists argue that a natural spillover is plausible, the potential link between WIV's research and the pandemic warrants serious investigation.

Fauci's involvement: From funds and boasting to denials and coverups Dr. Anthony Fauci, director of the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases (NIAID), has been a key figure in U.S. pandemic response and a prominent denier of the lab-leak theory. However, evidence suggests that his involvement in funding the very research that may have caused the pandemic goes far beyond mere oversight. The bioterror was planned, the so-called vaccines were prepared beforehand, and coronavirus gain-of-function experiments became a pandemic that public health officials like Fauci would glean power and profit from.

Funding WIV's gain-of-function research: Through EcoHealth Alliance, NIAID, led by Fauci, provided grants totaling nearly $600,000 to WIV for research on bat coronaviruses between 2015 and 2019. This funding, approved by Fauci, helped facilitate the risky experiments that may have led to the COVID-19 outbreak.

Perjury under oath: Fauci repeatedly denied funding gain-of-function research at WIV during Congressional hearings, most notably in clashes with Senator Rand Paul. However, emails obtained through Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) requests reveal that Fauci approved the funding in question. These conflicting statements call into question Fauci's honesty and integrity.

Collusion and cover-up: Suppressing the truth
As the scandal raged on, Fauci and his cohorts allegedly went to great lengths to suppress information about the virus's origins and discredit scientists who dared to suggest a lab leak.

Collaboration with Chinese officials: Rather than hold China accountable for the pandemic's origins, Fauci and other top U.S. public health officials worked with Chinese counterparts to produce a joint statement that refuted the lab-leak theory. This statement, published in The Lancet, was later found to be based on false information provided by Chinese officials.

Discrediting the lab leak investigation: Fauci and his cohort, Dr. Peter Daszak, have been accused of actively discrediting the lab-leak theory and attacking scientists who supported it. Daszak, a zoologist who worked closely with WIV and received NIH funding, even wrote a letter to The Lancet condemning the lab-leak hypothesis as a "conspiracy theory" before claiming to have no conflict of interest in the matter.

As the investigation into Fauci's role in the COVID-19 pandemic continues, one thing is clear: the truth has been suppressed for far too long. The gravity of the situation demands transparency, accountability, and decisive action to prevent such disasters in the future. With bravado and hubris, Fauci and his cohorts have remained unaccountable, shielded by political allies and mainstream media that have bowed to the establishment's narrative. It is time for the world to wake up to the truth, regardless of how inconvenient or uncomfortable it may be. The lives lost, the economies ruined, and the global consequences of the COVID-19 scandal demand no less.

Eyes Wide Shut: Democrats' Blindness To MAHA

By: Dan Turrentine, 20 years as a Democrat in DC - in politics, as a lobbyist and as a Capitol Hill Chief of Staff 04/24/2025
DanTurrentine.substack.com

Since Trump came down the escalator in 2015 and gave his initial press conference, Democrats' shock to their sensibilities and anger at the man have rendered them blind to the popularity of several issues Trump champions. The list is long, but this is about Make America Healthy Again (MAHA).

Last fall we heard repeatedly from moms and some dads (across the ideological spectrum) concerned about the impact of ultra-processed foods commonly consumed by children-and adults. Specifically, they point to data that shows a rapid increase in pediatric and adult digestive issues, diabetes, and heart disease, particularly compared to Europe. Of course, in Europe, many of the chemicals and ingredients in ultra-processed foods are banned.

"AS THE JACKASS TURNS..."

The first politician to give voice to these concerns was Robert F Kennedy in his campaign for the Democratic nomination in 2023. RFK built a powerful, loyal legion of followers, who organically organized to share stories and advocate for change. Many of these people are suburban moms, already active in common neighborhood group chats. They are not MAGA, nor suffering from Trump Derangement Syndrome (TDS). They are all over the country, from swing states, to the deepest of blue and red corners. They are middle of the road, regular Americans, concerned about the health and safety of their children, and themselves. They are material in numbers and powerful from intensity.

Obsessed with defeating Trump, Democrats devoted all of their attention to destroying RFK and ensuring there was not a competitive primary against the incumbent. Once it became obvious he had no chance, RFK left the Democratic Party and went into the political wilderness, with his loyal followers focused as ever on addressing food quality.

As I have said many times, Trump is an incredible political athlete and extremely street smart. Sensing an opportunity, Trump extended a hand to RFK and just as importantly, to his followers. Ever the marketing genius, Trump recognized the power of MAHA and fully embraced its agenda - ironic, given his favorite restaurant is said to be McDonalds.

On Tuesday, RFK announced "an understanding" with food manufacturers to remove petroleum-based food colorings from their products by 2026. He also announced a focus on combating the amount of sugar children eat, much of which is often processed.

As someone focused on health (after watching my father suffer and thankfully survive a massive heart attack when I was 12) I find it sad that my Party cannot support MAHA, largely because they refuse to give Trump help. As a Democrat who hopes to win future elections, it frustrates me to no end that we are not engaged on the issue in general. It's time for Democrats to open their eyes. It's time for Democrats to start building a pro-active agenda that is both good policy and good politics. There are worse places to start than MAHA.

determine whether COVID-19 "vaccines," compared to other vaccines, are linked to neuropsychiatric conditions. VAERS was researched from January 1, 1990, to December 27, 2024, for adverse events (AEs) involving neuropsychiatric issues post-COVID-19 vaccination. The study spanned 420 months for all vaccines, with COVID-19 vaccines available for only 48 months (January 1, 2021, to December 27, 2024). Proportional reporting ratios (PRRs) were computed by comparing AEs after COVID-19 vaccination to those after influenza vaccination and all other vaccines. The CDC/FDA flags a safety concern when a PRR is ≥ 2 .

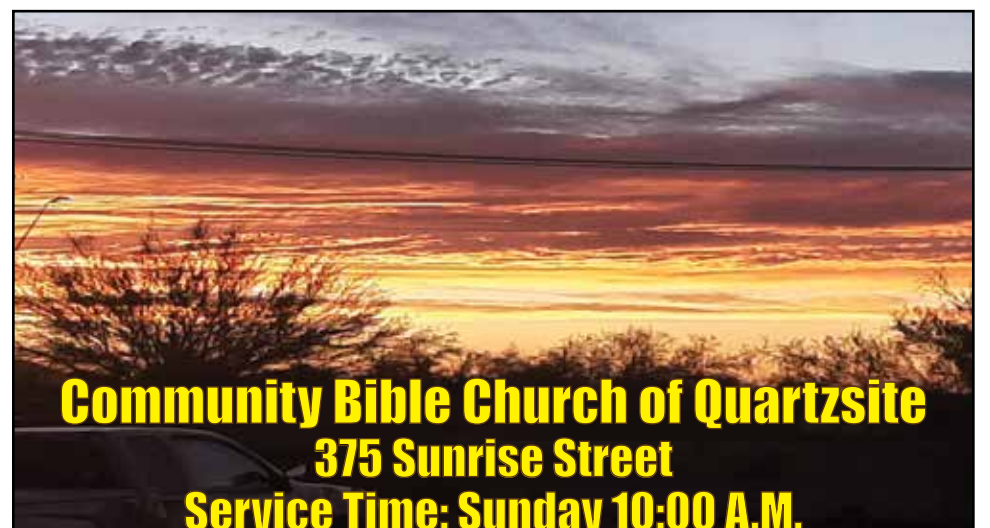

Terrifyingly, the CDC/FDA safety threshold was breached (PRR is ≥ 2 compared to the flu shot) for 86 quite severe neurological and psychiatric conditions following receipt of the destructive COVID-19 injections. For example, following the jabs, suicidal thoughts were 150 times (x), dementia 140x, psychosis 440x, depression 530x, schizophrenia 315x, violent behavior 80x, delusions 50x, homicidal ideation 25x, and brain clots were 3,000 times more likely.

While these examples barely scratch the surface, this devastating damage, both neurological and psychiatric, is likely due to toxic spike production inside the brains of people who received mRNA COVID-19 injections. The study's conclusion (pdf version) rightly declared: "In conclusion, there are unprecedented safety signals indicating an association between COVID 19 vaccination and the development of neuropsychiatric disorders. The effects of these biological products on maternal and fetal health are of great concern. Our findings are worrisome for the future population risk for a variety of neuropsychiatric disorders, including those affecting cognition and suicidal/homicidal behaviors. Additionally, population intelligence should be thoroughly assessed among vaccinated and unvaccinated groups. In the meantime, the COVID 19 vaccines should be immediately withdrawn from the market."

Things They Didn't Teach You in Church: An Evil Within

A cancer has been growing within the fabric of America for decades and we are beginning to see multiple tumors revealing themselves in many different areas of our society. It was recently revealed that Harvard University received more than $151 million in total contributions from foreign governments between January 2020 and October 2024 and more than $100 million of those contributions were from government sources in the United Arab Emirates, Egypt, Saudi Arabia, Qatar, and Bangladesh. Can you say 9/11? Harvard and several other institutions of "higher education" have also refused to protect the rights of their Jewish students. Can you imagine the liberal outrage we would see if this was being done against black students?

On April 22, 2025, the Supreme Court heard arguments on behalf of parents from Montgomery County, MD. The case contends that requiring their children's participation in instruction that includes LGBTQ+ themes violates their First Amendment right to freely exercise their religion. Parents across the nation are facing this same violation of their constitutional rights. Even some liberals on the Supreme Court were shocked by what they found in some of these elementary school level books, they literally cannot be read on TV or radio. This issue has united Christian, Jewish and Muslim parents across this nation, who feel this material is not something their children should be exposed to. According to a CNN report one of the books examined was Prince & Knight, which tells the story of a prince who doesn't want to marry any of the princesses in his realm. The prince joins a knight, they slay a dragon, they fall in love and the king and queen approve! CNN also reported that another book, Born Ready, tells the story of Penelope, who likes skateboarding and wearing baggy jeans. Penelope tells her mother that she is a boy, and when Penelope's brother questions Penelope's gender identity, their mother hugs both children and whispers, "Not everything needs to make sense. This is about love."

According to the National Assessment Governing Board's report on 01/29/25 average reading scores declined by 2 points for both 4th and 8th grade students compared to 2022. The results for math are similar. Things are so bad that Harvard, among other "institutions of higher education", include remedial courses in their Master programs for reading, writing and mathematics because of applicants' deficiencies. The state of "higher education" in America is dismal. Instead of reading, writing and mathematics (in too many of our schools) our students are being indoctrinated in foul, untrue beliefs that will dwell within many students for life. This indoctrination is not happening by mistake; it is planned and has been going on for decades.

In my book The Four Hidden Dynasties of the Bible, I point out that Education is the first of these four dynasties and is revealed to us in several places in the Bible beginning in the Book of Daniel with the story of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, there was an attempt to indoctrinate them in the school of Nebuchadnezzar. Today a majority of college students are being educated by a mostly communist card-carrying faculty. On January 10, 1963, a member of the House of Representatives read into the Congressional Record THE 45 COMMUNIST GOALS, the following were among them: "17. Get control of the schools. Use them as transmission belts for socialism and current Communist propaganda. Soften the curriculum. Get control of teachers' associations. Put the party line in textbooks. 18. Gain control of all student newspapers. 19. Use student riots to foment public protests against programs or organizations..." This communist strategy has been in operational mode ever since.

It is undeniable that the negative misinformation spread by the Hidden Dynasty of Education and its partners in Mass Media lie to the "sheepeople" who in turn believe whatever they are told, because they have been doing that exact same thing for eons. Thankfully in 2025, we're seeing the public demonstrate a growing mistrust of not only "higher education" but also Mainstream Media.

The influence of "higher education" and its false and evil teaching is staggering. It is no coincidence that the pinnacles of liberal, socialistic and communistic thought across this nation are always found exactly where the institutions of "higher education" are located. It is where the "educated people" live and it is from these places that their lies are spread across the world.

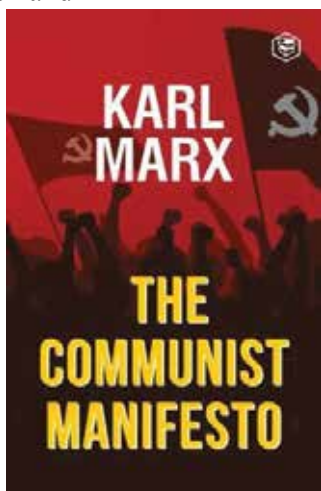

Guess what is in every super liberal socialist metro center in this country - a university spewing out their liberal doctrine. On top of that, look around this country and you will see that liberal socialistic lunatics run every major city government in the United States. Who else do you suppose has been infected by the liberal commie professors' indoctrination in colleges and universities all across this nation? The majority of people in administrative positions, not only in our government but also in most private corporations. Their battle cry can be boiled down to; Take what is normal and make it abnormal and take what is abnormal and make it normal. One of their greatest lies is that God is not real and if you believe in God, you are not normal.

We are told in the book of Matthew Chapter 24:4, that the disciples of Jesus approached Him and asked when the end of the world would be. "And Jesus answered and said unto them, Take heed that no man deceive you." That message is also meant for us, we must not be deceived, but it seems many of our friends and loved ones are being deceived, even though what these God fearing people are believing is very abnormal. God told us to expect this; He is protecting some of His children from the Great Lie that is coming. In Romans 11:8 we read (According as it is written, God hath given them the spirit of slumber, eyes that they should not see, and ears that they should not hear;) unto this day and it is indeed true unto this day.

UPDATE! Mike Roth, Private Property, and the Purpose of Government

By: Dennis Vosper

According to sources within the Town of Quartzsite, more than 50% of respondents to their General Plan Update Survey in 2023 communicated that they wanted a “cleaner community with nicer aesthetics.”

Quartzsite Town Officials seem to have taken this as a de facto mandate to venture outside of their government property and take aim at the private property of its citizens. In fact, the number of private properties targeted for abatement within the town limits is 43, with the most recent property to come under assault is Mike Roth's private property at 65 S Kofa Ave., in late March. Roth is said to be the longest running and most vocal critic of the town officials in Quartzite. He believes the assault on his private property is directly linked to his political opinions and activities, and is a clear example of lawfare and tyranny.

As of May 1, 2025, it is estimated that the government, which includes personnel and equipment from both the town of Quartzsite and La Paz County, have destroyed and/or taken to the dump over $100,000 worth of Roth's property. Additionally, they have stolen (trucked away) over $100,000 worth of larger items to town storage yards. All in broad daylight, with the backing of men with guns!

Some say there's way too much talk about the Constitution and private property rights, but isn't the argument that the Town Officials and uninformed citizens talk about and embrace town codes and use of police force that violate people's unalienable rights!

If the Founding Fathers were alive today they would identify all those who would steal or destroy property, and use the law as a political weapon, as tyrants! Some might say, “but there's a court order.” Remember from history, King George III said he had court orders and he demanded compliance or else he'd impose fines, imprisonment, and/or the taking of private property, all while violating the unalienable rights of the people. According to the Founding Father's King George was a tyrant, so it is not illogical to believe they'd say the same about the Town of Quartzsite.

Fill in the blank: “It is good, moral, and right to send men and women with guns to a person's private property, then have government workers steal and/or destroy a person's property when _____.”

It's never right to rob people or destroy their personal or real property unless they have harmed another, or are creating a danger. There must reasonably be a damaged party! Mike Roth's property did not harm anyone! There was no imminent danger! There is NO damaged party! There is no constitutionally authorized use of government force.

The Declaration of Independence provides the primary purpose of government: to protect and defend the unalienable rights of the INDIVIDUAL, NOT THE COLLECTIVE. Government must protect and defend the right to: 1. Life, 2. Liberty, and 3. The pursuit of happiness. The phrase, “pursuit of happiness,” is directly and intrinsically linked to a person's property, their estate, with sovereign property rights.

A landowner has the unalienable rights to utilize their land for raw materials, to raise animals and plants for food and clothing, for shelter, for safety, for security, for a place to work, to recreate, decorate, store their goods, to make one's livelihood, and provide for their family...

This is the core meaning of this unalienable right, and in essence, the property owner is king of his/her land. Unalienable rights come from God, not government. They cannot be taken away.

The Town of Quartzsite seems to be acting with malice aforethought and is egregiously violating their core duties and responsibility by violating Mike Roth's unalienable property rights.

The Town of Quartzsite appears to have ordered an internal stay, with abatement operations on hold as of Tuesday, April 1, 2025. Four roll off dumpsters have been left on the street in front of his home. Why?

~ Freedom ~

What Does the World Say?

Dr. Sean McDowell recently asked a group of high school students what does “freedom” mean. After some discussion and reflection, they agreed on this definition: “Freedom is being able to do what you want without restraint.” In other words, the free person does whatever he or she wants without any person or law standing in their way. - February 8, 2021

What Does the Bible Say?

1 Corinthians 10:23-24

“I have the right to do anything,” you say—but not everything is beneficial. “I have the right to do anything”—but not everything is constructive. [24] No one should seek their own good, but the good of others.

Galatians 5:13-14

You, my brothers and sisters, were called to be free. But do not use your freedom to indulge the flesh; rather, serve one another humbly in love. [14] For the entire law is fulfilled in keeping this one command: “Love your neighbor as yourself.”

1 Peter 2:16-17

Act as free men, and do not use your freedom as a covering for evil, but use it as bondslaves of God. [17] Honor all people, love the brotherhood, fear God, honor the king.

James 1:25

But whoever looks intently into the perfect law that gives freedom, and continues in it—not forgetting what they have heard, but doing it—they will be blessed in what they do.

Romans 6:15-16

What then? Shall we sin because we are not under the law but under grace? By no means! [16] Don't you know that when you offer yourselves to someone as obedient slaves, you are slaves of the one you obey—whether you are slaves to sin, which leads to death, or to obedience, which leads to righteousness?

John 8:32

“Then you will know the truth, and the truth will set you free.”
